Pacific Power files for California rate change

On August 2, 2010, Pacific Power filed a proposed Application with the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) requesting a rate increase of approximately $9.3 million or 10.7 percent under its Energy Cost Adjustment Clause (ECAC). The main drivers of the increase are expected increases in retail loads and the expiration of several long-term below-market power purchase contracts and gas supply contracts. These contracts have benefited our customers for many years but, as they expire the Company needs to replace them at current market prices. The increase is partially offset by the addition of new transmission and wind resources. Pacific Power is requesting this increase as part of the ECAC that was approved by the CPUC in December 2006. The ECAC allows Pacific Power the opportunity to recover actual net variable power costs. By August 1 of each year, Pacific Power compares net variable power costs to what is being collected from customers. Net variable power costs include the sum of fuel expenses, wholesale purchase power expenses and wheeling expenses, less wholesale sales revenue. If actual net variable power costs are more than projected, Pacific Power may file for a rate increase. However, if actual net variable power costs are less than projected, Pacific Power may file for a rate decrease. If the CPUC approves this request, this increase would become effective January 1, 2011, and would have the following estimated average impacts on each customer segment:

Customer class	Proposed percentage increase	Proposed dollar increase
Residential	10.1 percent	$4.45 million
Commercial and Industrial	11.7 percent	$3.74 million
Irrigation	10.8 percent	$1.08 million
Streetlighting	6.3 percent	$0.04 million
Overall	10.7 percent	$9.31 million

The average residential customer using 900 kilowatt-hours per month would see a bill increase of approximately $10.11 per month.

EVIDENTIARY HEARINGS

The CPUC may schedule formal Evidentiary Hearings (EH) whereby the formal parties of record provide testimony and are subject to cross examination before the CPUC's Administrative Law Judge (ALJ). These hearings are open to the public, but only those who are formal parties of record can participate. The CPUC has a court reporter who will take the comment of those formal parties of record participating in the EH. Pacific Power will provide testimony at the hearings. The Division of Ratepayer Advocates (DRA) consists of engineers, accountants, economists, and attorneys who independently evaluate the proposals of utilities for rate changes and present their analyses and recommendations to the CPUC at the EH. Once hearings are completed, the ALJ will consider all of the evidence presented and release the draft decision. The CPUC may approve the proposed requests of Pacific Power, approve the draft decision by the ALJ or may approve an alternate decision filed by a Commissioner. The final decision may differ from Pacific Power's original proposed request.
