NOTICE OF EVIDENTIARY HEARINGS REGARDING PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY'S REQUEST TO INCREASE YOUR RATES FOR COSTS RELATING TO DIABLO CANYON SEISMIC STUDIES (A.16-02-019)

Scheduled October 19-20, at 9:30 a.m. at the address below:

California Public Utilities Commission Courtroom, State Office Building, 505 Van Ness Avenue
San Francisco, CA 94102

Summary

On February 29, 2016, Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E) submitted an application to the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) requesting to increase its electric rates effective January 1, 2017. In this application, PG&E requests approval to recover costs associated with seismic (earthquake) studies performed at Diablo Canyon Power Plant (DCPP). This application is a review of recorded costs to the Energy Resource Recovery Account (ERRA) from the prior year. In Decision 12-09-008, the CPUC required PG&E to present seismic studies' costs in PG&E's annual ERRA compliance review application.

Background

The DCPD seismic studies were conducted in response to both the California Energy Commission's recommendations and Nuclear Regulatory Commission licensing requirements. In previous decisions, the CPUC approved PG&E's proposals for enhanced seismic studies to assess the potential vulnerabilities at DCPD should a major seismic event occur. Although the costs associated with seismic studies are held in the Diablo Canyon Seismic Studies Balancing Account, they are reviewed by the CPUC in the ERRA compliance proceeding. The costs requested in this application represent seismic studies' costs that were incurred by PG&E in 2015.

PG&E requests to collect $6.84 million in rates from customers who receive electric generation as well as transmission and distribution service from PG&E, known as bundled service customers. Rates for customers who purchase electricity from other suppliers (such as direct access and community choice aggregation) and rates for departing load customers will not be affected by these specific costs.

How will PG&E's application affect me?

If this application is approved, electric rates will increase by less than one percent for bundled-service customers effective January 1, 2017. Based on the rates in effect on January 1, 2016, a typical bundled-service customer using 500 kWh per month would see an average bill increase of $0.05 (or 0.05 percent), from $97.14 to $97.19. Actual bill impacts will vary depending on your electricity usage.

Evidentiary Hearings

At the evidentiary hearings noted above, PG&E and other formal parties to the proceeding will present their evidence through testimony and will be subject to cross-examination before an Administrative Law Judge (Judge). The hearings are open to the public, but only those who are formal parties are permitted to present evidence and/or cross-examine witnesses. After considering all proposals and evidence presented during the formal process, the Judge will issue a proposed decision which may accept PG&E's proposal, modify it or deny it. Any of the five Commissioners may issue an alternate decision based on the record. The proposed decision and any alternates will be acted upon at a CPUC Voting Meeting where the Commissioners will decide whether to adopt the proposed or an alternate decision.

Please note: The CPUC's Courtroom is wheelchair accessible. If you wish to attend and need specialized accommodations, please contact the Public Advisor's Office (PAO) at least five business days prior to the hearing date. Any changes to the dates, times, and locations of the hearings will be posted to the CPUC's Daily Calendar.

SUMMARY

On February 29, 2016, Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E) submitted an application to the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) requesting to increase its electric rates effective January 1, 2017.
