Attachment - Digest

This Resolution is an Alternate to Resolution T-17302, which mailed on February 8, 2011. In light of its implications for the definition of "Basic" telephone service, this Alternate rejects Verizon California Inc. (Verizon) Advice Letter No. 12535 (Advice Letter), filed October 22, 2010, proposing to eliminate the delivery of residential white pages directory listings to customers except for those who "opt in" to receive these directories. The Commission currently defines "a free white pages directory" as part of residential telephone Basic Service. Verizon's proposal implements a significant change to the delivery, if not also the definition, of Basic Service, at a time when that definition is being considered within the scope of Rulemaking 09-06-019. Accordingly, we affirm Assigned Administrative Law Judge Pulsifer intent to address whether white pages residential telephone directories should be included in the definition of "Basic Service," and if so how such directories should be provided, as part of the Rulemaking 09-06-019 analysis of Basic Service.
