Application 10-02-____

2010 RATE DESIGN WINDOW APPLICATION
OF PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY (U 39 E)

I. INTRODUCTION

Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E) respectfully submits this 2010 Rate Design Window (RDW)<sup>1</sup> Application pursuant to Public Utilities Code section 454, Decision (D.) 89-01-040 and D.07-07-004 (the Rate Case Plan), D.09-03-026 (the SmartMeter™ Program Upgrade Decision), and Rule 3.2 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure of the California Public Utilities Commission (Commission or CPUC). D.09-03-026 ordered PG&E to present a 2-part Peak Time Rebate (PTR) proposal for residential customers as part of its 2010 RDW and to seek recovery of incremental expenditures required to implement a 2-part PTR program.

PG&E submits this filing on February 26, 2010 in compliance with the schedule for its 2010 RDW application. Under the Rate Case Plan, PG&E's 2010 Rate Design Window (RDW) application was due November 25, 2009. On October 16, 2009, PG&E wrote to the Commission's Executive Director requesting an extension to January 29, 2010 to file the 2010 RDW application. That request was granted on October 23, 2009. Subsequently, PG&E wrote a second time to the Commission's Executive Director to request a second extension to February 26, 2010 to file the 2010 RDW application. On January 28, 2010, the Executive Director granted an extension as PG&E requested.

<sup>1</sup> Under the Rate Case Plan, PG&E's 2010 RDW Application would have been due in November 2009. In October 2009, PG&E requested an extension to January 29, 2010 from the Commission's Executive Director to file the 2010 RDW application. On October 23, 2009, the Executive Director granted PG&E's requested extension. On January 25, 2010, PG&E requested a second extension to February 26, which was granted on January 28, 2010.

The testimony accompanying this application is based on a 2-year staged roll-out of default PTR date with implementation for the first 400,000 to 500,000 residential customers occurring in May 2011 with implementation for the remaining approximately 4 million residential customers scheduled to begin May 2012. Implementation of PTR requires that residential customers have SmartMeters™ and interval billing in place. However, PG&E has now determined that the transition of approximately 4.5 million residential customers to interval billing needs to occur in staged waves (staged transition) to ensure that PG&E's systems can fully support interval billing capability.

In the testimony accompanying this application, PG&E estimates that the incremental costs in 2010, 2011, 2012 and 2013 for the 2-part PTR proposals contained in this Application total approximately $32.7 million, of which $2.3 million is for capital expenditures and $30.4 million is for expenses. PG&E requests that the Commission find the estimated costs for PG&E's proposal to be reasonable. PG&E's requested revenue requirement for implementation is approximately $1.2 million for 2010, $3.8 million for 2011, $12.7 million for 2012, and $12.7 million for 2013. The revenue requirement incurred in each year would then be expected to be recovered in the following year. For example, the estimated amount to be recovered in electric rates beginning January 2, 2011, would be the revenue requirement for 2010, or approximately $1.2 million. On January 1, 2012, an additional $3.8 million would be recovered in rates. On January 1, 2013, the additional amount would change to $12.7 million. Finally, on January 1, 2014, the additional amount recovered in rates would continue to be $12.7 million. Expenses incurred in 2014 and beyond and the recovery of the capital related costs (such as return, taxes and depreciation) would be subject to recovery in the 2014 and subsequent general rate cases (GRCs), or an appropriate demand response proceeding.

II. BACKGROUND AND AUTHORITY FOR PROPOSALS

Ordering Paragraph (OP) 9 of D.09-03-026 orders PG&E to file its 2-part PTR proposal as follows:

A two-tier peak time rebate incentive design is adopted for PG&E. PG&E shall present a proposal to implement such a design in its November 2009 rate design window filing. The proposed rate design shall be consistent with the rate design guidance in D.08-07-045.

At page 122, D.09-03-026 directs PG&E to propose a two-tier PTR incentive design and the associated PTR program costs for such a design in its November 2009 RDW filing.

In addition, OP 10 of D.09-03-026 imposes certain reporting requirements on PG&E and authorizes PG&E to request the incremental costs of the reporting requirement in appropriate cases:

Similar to what was required for Southern California Edison Company in Decision 08-09-039, PG&E shall report to the Commission on the energy savings and associated financial benefits of all demand response, load control, energy efficiency, and conservation programs enabled by advanced metering infrastructure, including programmable communicating thermostat programs, Peak Time Rebate programs, and other dynamic rates for residential customers. PG&E shall file annual reports in April of each year until 2019. PG&E shall work with Energy Division to develop a reporting format for this information, and to determine where the reports should be filed. PG&E may request recovery for the incremental costs of this reporting requirement in appropriate cases.

Although RDW proceedings normally do not involve revenue requirement recovery requests, D.09-03-026 authorizes PG&E to seek recovery of incremental expenditures required to implement a 2-part PTR program and to perform the energy savings and demand response reporting requirements required in D.09-03-026.

As requested in Advice 3521-E, filed September 4, 2009, pending before the Commission, PG&E plans to record the incremental implementation costs associated with a 2-part PTR program in its Dynamic Pricing Memorandum Account (DPMA), but will not recover these costs in rates until PG&E is authorized to do so in this proceeding.

III. CONTENTS OF THE APPLICATION AND SUPPORTING TESTIMONY

The rest of this Application contains information required by the CPUC Rules, presents a summary of the supporting testimony, and concludes with PG&E's specific request for relief.

Concurrently with the filing of this Application, PG&E is serving the Application and the written testimony supporting its proposals and requests on the service lists in its 2007 General Rate Case, Phase 2, Application 06-03-005, its SmartMeter™ Program Upgrade Case, Application 07-12-009, and its 2009 RDW case, A.09-02-022.

A. Summary of Testimony

The testimony is presented in one exhibit as follows.

Chapter 1 - Overview. This chapter briefly describes PG&E's 2-part PTR pricing and rate design proposal and implementation costs, and sets forth an implementation timeline. The chapter notes that the costs described in the testimony are based on PG&E's proposals, and the assumption that the Commission approves PG&E's proposals (as modified by the Proposed Decision) in the Peak Day Pricing (PDP) application, A. 09-02-022, and the SmartAC application, A.09-08-018. The chapter briefly discusses the reason for PG&E's recommended staged May 2011 and May 2012 transition, instead of a more massive transition of customers on May 2011. The chapter also indicates that if the Commission materially modifies PG&E's proposals, the result would likely impact the cost and PG&E's ability to meet the desired May 1, 2011 implementation date.

Chapter 2 - Rate Proposal. This chapter presents PG&E's rate proposals for 2-part PTR for residential customers, consistent with the Rate Design Guidance provided in D.08-07-045. The PTR rate proposal includes two rates: a) PTR-a for eligible residential customers who do not have qualified enabling technology, and b) PTR-b for eligible residential customers with qualified enabling technology. PTR-a will be a default rate applicable to eligible customers who have a SmartMeter™ and are billed based on hourly usage data. PTR-b will be an opt-in rate for eligible customers who have a SmartMeter™, are billed based on hourly usage data, and have qualified enabling technology. This chapter also describes PG&E's proposed tariff revisions for its 2-part PTR program.

Chapter 3 - Enabling Technology. This chapter describes the technology that the customer needs to have to be eligible for PTR-b.

Chapter 4 - Analysis of Incremental Costs. This chapter presents the analytical approach and overall results of PG&E's assessment of incremental cost. It describes the criteria and methodology for determining the incremental costs, summarizes prior proceedings and adopted costs to establish the baseline for incremental costs for the 2-part PTR program.

Chapter 5 - Customer Outreach for Awareness and Notification. This chapter describes the need for education and outreach efforts to PG&E's entire residential customer class and explains PG&E's request for approximately $14.1 million in incremental costs for 2-part PTR outreach and education. It describes PG&E's approach to customer education strategy and event notification in light of the staged approach to PTR implementation.

Chapter 6 - Customer Inquiry Costs. This chapter explains PG&E's request for approximately $8.5 million in incremental operational costs related to customer inquiries, including increased Contact Center and training costs.

Chapter 7 - Billing, Revenue, and Credit Costs. This chapter explains PG&E's request for approximately $0.8 million in incremental costs associated with billing, revenue and credit efforts resulting from the implementation of its 2-part PTR program.

Chapter 8 - Online Enablement. This chapter explains the decision analysis tools and information that will be available to residential customers on PG&E's website to support its 2-part PTR program.

Chapter 9 - Information Technology Costs. This chapter discusses PG&E's request for $3.9 million in incremental IT costs for implementation of its 2-part PTR program. The chapter also addresses the reasons for a staged transition of the customer class to interval billing.

Chapter 10 - Measurement and Evaluation of Peak Time Rebate. This chapter explains PG&E's request for approximately $3.9 million in incremental costs to estimate annual load impacts for the 2-part PTR program and to update enrollment forecasting models. The chapter also discusses the unique and important load impact and customer preference research that is possible with the staged PTR implementation starting in summer 2011.

Chapter 11 - Demand Response Operations. This chapter explains PG&E's request for approximately $1.6 million in 2-part PTR program operation costs.

Chapter 12 - Results of Operations. This chapter presents the revenue requirements for 2010, 2011, 2012 and 2013.

Chapter 13 - Cost Recovery Proposal. This chapter presents PG&E's cost recovery proposal for actual costs and associated revenue requirements for implementation of its 2-part PTR program. PG&E proposes to record actual PTR implementation costs and associated revenue requirements in the DPMA in 2010 through 2013, and to transfer those amounts on a monthly basis to the Distribution Revenue Adjustment Mechanism (DRAM) for subsequent recovery in distribution rates through PG&E's Annual Electric True-Up advice letter process beginning January 1, 2011, not subject to after-the-fact reasonableness review, provided the actual costs recorded in the DPMA do not exceed the estimated costs in this Application.

Appendix A - Statements of Qualification. This Appendix contains the witnesses' qualifications.

B. Cost Recovery Request for Incremental Costs

In D.09-03-026, the Commission stated “[W]e will defer the PTR program design to PG&E's November 2009 rate design window filing, where we will require PG&E to propose a two-tier PTR incentive design and the associated PTR program costs for such a design.”

PG&E's costs and revenue requirement requests for 2-part PTR in this case are incremental in nature relative to cost estimates and revenue requirements previously adopted by the Commission in other proceedings. These other proceedings include PG&E's 2011 Phase 1 General Rate Case and Demand Response cases (e.g. SmartAC), various filings related to

PG&E's ongoing SmartMeter™ program, (i.e., PG&E's Advanced Metering Infrastructure (AMI) and SmartMeter Program Upgrade Applications), and the 2009 RDW Peak Day Pricing dynamic pricing case.

Proposed Category

PG&E proposes that this Application be categorized as a ratesetting proceeding.

Need for Hearing

PG&E anticipates that hearings will be required.

Issues to be Considered

PG&E proposes that the issues to be considered in this proceeding are as follows:

1. Whether to approve PG&E's 2-part PTR proposals;
2. Whether to find that PG&E's estimated incremental cost of $32.7 million through 2013 to implement the 2-part PTR proposal are reasonable and prudent;
3. Whether to authorize PG&E to transfer amounts recorded in the DPMA on a monthly basis to the Distribution Revenue Adjustment Mechanism (DRAM) for subsequent recovery in distribution rates through PG&E's Annual Electric True-Up (AET) advice letter process, or as soon thereafter as practicable, not subject to after-the-fact reasonableness review, provided the actual costs recorded in the DPMA through December 31, 2013 do not exceed the amount forecast in this Application.

Proposed Schedule

PG&E requests the Commission to issue a final decision approving the rate and cost recovery proposals by November 2010 in order to meet the proposed stage one May 1, 2011 implementation date. Therefore, PG&E proposes the following procedural schedule:

Application filed	February 26, 2010
Protests or Responses	March 29, 2010
Reply to Protests or Responses	April 18, 2010

Rebuttal Testimony	July 1, 2010
Hearings Begin	Week of July 12, 2010
Concurrent Opening Briefs	August 9, 2010
Concurrent Reply Briefs	August 23, 2010
Proposed Decision	September 23, 2010

F. Articles of Incorporation (Rule 2.2)

A certified copy of PG&E's Restated Articles of Incorporation, effective April 12, 2004 was filed with the Commission on May 3, 2004, with PG&E's Application 04-05-005. These articles are incorporated herein by reference.

G. Balance Sheet and Income Statement (Rule 3.2 (a) (1))

PG&E's balance sheet and an income statement are contained n Exhibit A of this Application.

H. Statement of Presently Effective Rates (Rule 3.2 (b) (2))

PG&E's presently effective electric rates were filed with the Commission on January 15, 2010, as part of PG&E's Diablo Canyon Seismic Studies Application No. 10-01-014, and are incorporated herein by reference.

I. Statement of Proposed Increases (Rule 3.2(a) (3))

The revenue requirement associated with this application will be recorded in the DPMA and recovered through the DRAM and PG&E's AET process. Distribution rates covering the request in this application will be set in the same manner as rates for other distribution revenue based on then current methods for distribution revenue allocation and rate design. The cost will be recovered from all customers who receive transmission and distribution service from PG&E, including bundled and direct access customers.<sup>2</sup> As set forth above, the highest estimated annual revenue requirement, $12.7 million, is expected to be incurred in 2012 and 2013, and recovered in rates in 2013 and 2014. This amount, $12.7 million would increase the bundled average rate by 0.10% and the average DA rate by 0.16% over current rates. Accordingly, in each year, the bundled and DA average percentage increases in revenue requested in this application are less than 1 percent relative to current rates.

<sup>2</sup> Direct Access customers, as well as customers under Community Choice Aggregation, take electric generation supply from non-PG&E suppliers.

J. Summary of Earnings (Rule 3.2 (a) (5) and (6))

PG&E's recorded year 2008 revenues, expenses, rate base and rate of return for PG&E's Electric Department were filed with the Commission on December 21, 2009, as part of PG&E's 2011 General Rate Case No. 09-12-020, and are incorporated herein by reference.

K. Type of Rate Change Requested (Rule (3.2 (a) (10))

This Application's proposed rate increases will reflect and pass through to customers only the actual increased costs to PG&E for implementation and operation of 2-part PTR, including rate of return on rate base for the project's capital costs.

L. Notice to Governmental Entities (Rule 3.2(b))

The list of governmental entities, including the State of California and cities and counties served by PG&E, to whom PG&E will mail notice stating in general terms the proposed revenues, rate changes and ratemaking mechanisms requested in this application, within ten days of filing, was filed with the Commission on December 21, 2009, as part of PG&E's 2010 General Rate Case No. 09-12-020, and is incorporated herein by reference.

M. Publication (Rules 3.2(c))

Within ten days of filing this Application PG&E will publish in newspapers of general circulation in each county in its service territory a notice of filing, and within ten days of publication PG&E will file proof of compliance.

N. Notice to Customers (Rule 3.2(d)) and Service of Application (Rules 3.2 (b) – (d))

Within 45 days of filing this Application PG&E will include notices with the regular bills mailed to all customers affected by the proposed changes, and within ten days of mailing PG&E will file proof of compliance. This Application and attachments, or a Notice of Availability of this Application and attachments, is being served on parties of record in A.06-03-005, A.09-02-022, and A.07-12-009. PG&E will publish in newspapers of general circulation in each county in its service area a notice of filing of this Application, and PG&E will include notices with the regular bills mailed to all customers affected by the proposed changes.

5. Grant such other authority and relief as the Commission deems appropriate.

Dated at San Francisco, California, this 26th day of February 2010.

PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY

February 26, 2010

BEFORE THE PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA

Application of Pacific Gas and Electric Company for Approval of its 2010 Rate Design Window Proposal for 2-Part Peak Time Rebate and Recovery of Incremental
Expenditures Required for Implementation.

(U 39E)

Application No. 10-02-__

NOTICE OF AVAILABILITY OF PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY'S 2010 RATE DESIGN WINDOW APPLICATION AND TESTIMONY

PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY (PG&E) hereby provides this Notice of Availability of its 2010 Rate Design Window (RDW) Application.

On February 26, 2010, PG&E filed its 2010 RDW Application by transmitting an electronic version to the California Public Utilities Commission's Docket Office. The 2010 RDW Application requests authorization to implement a 2-part Peak Time Rebate (PTR) rate for residential customers and to recover the incremental costs associated with PG&E's 2-part PTR proposal. PG&E submits its 2010 RDW Application in compliance with the Commission's direction in D.09-03-026.

PG&E estimates that the incremental costs in 2010, 2011, 2012 and 2013 for the 2-part PTR proposals contained in its Application total $32.7 million, of which $2.3 million is for capital expenditures and $30.4 million is for expenses. PG&E's requested revenue requirement is $1.2 million for 2010, $3.8 million for 2011, $12.7 million for 2012, and $12.7 million for 2013. The revenue requirement incurred in each year would then be expected to be recovered in the following year. For example, the estimated amount to be recovered in electric rates beginning January 2, 2011, would be the revenue requirement for 2010, or approximately $1.2 million. On January 1, 2012, an additional $3.8 million would be recovered in rates. On January 1, 2013, the additional amount would change to $12.7 million. Finally, on January 1, 2014, the additional amount recovered in rates would remain $12.7 million.

Materials related to the Application include separately bound prepared testimony and workpapers. Pursuant to Rule 1.9(c), the testimony and workpapers are available upon request.

Requests should be submitted in writing by e-mail to:

Ms. Anthea Lee
Case Coordinator
Pacific Gas and Electric Company
E-mail: AGL9@pge.com
Telephone: (415) 973-5382

Written requests may also be submitted to PG&E by mail to Ms. Lee at P.O. Box 770000, Mail Code B9A, San Francisco, California 94177.

The application and testimony will also be made available on the internet at the following link: <http://apps.pge.com/regulation/search.aspx?CaseID=917>. Click on the Search button to access a list of posted documents. Questions concerning internet access should be directed to Ms. Lee.

Respectfully submitted,
