Inc.; Vernon Paddock; West Valley Hulling/Barry Baker; Xcel Shelling, LLC., Complainant, vs. Pacific Gas and Electric Company and DOES 1 through 100, Defendant; Presiding Officer's Decision.

This decision finds that Complainants are not entitled to an agricultural rate for electricity used in almond hulling and shelling under Pacific Gas and Electric Company's Tariff, because hulling and shelling changes the form of the almond, and there is a viable market for almond hulls and shells to be used as cattle feed and cattle bedding, respectively. Summary: On October 14, 2004, Jeffrey Shields, Utility Director of the South San Joaquin Irrigation District (SSJID), met with Cmmr. Brown in San Francisco. Also present were David Gamson, advisor to Cmmr. Brown, Jeanne Armstrong, counsel for SSJID, Scott Blaising, counsel for CMUA, and other attendees listed on the attachment to the notice. Shields relayed the District's intent to start serving retail electric customers by January 2007. Shields questioned whether the stated purpose behind the imposition of exit fees on municipal departing load was still plausible. Finally, Shields proposed that, to the extent that the concept of exit fees was still valid, a more equitable alternative may be for the publicly owned utility to assume part of DWR's portfolio rather than have its customers pay an exit fee.

Summary: On October 14, 2004, Lynn Haug, counsel to the City of Industry (City), participated in a meeting with Cmmr. Brown in San Francisco. Also present were David Gamson, advisor to Cmmr. Brown, and other representatives listed on the attachment to the notice. Haug urged the Commission to support a reasonable exemption applicable at least to the small number of new utilities serving greenfield developments.

10/19/04 A03-08-004 Pacific Gas and Electric Company, for adoption of its 2004 Energy Resource Recovery Account (ERRA) forecast revenue requirement, for review of contract administration, least cost dispatch and procurement activities during the record period January 1, 2003 through May 31, 2003, and for approval of its 2004 Ongoing Competition Transition Charges (CTC) revenue requirement and proposed rate design.

Summary: On October 14, 2003, Sabrina Chaw, Manager of Regulatory Relations, Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E), met with Julie Fitch, advisor to Cmmr. Peevey, in San Francisco. Also present were Donna Barry, Team Lead, and Mark Huffman, Attorney, for PG&E. Chaw pointed out that a proposed decision was recently issued in Southern California Edison's 2004 ERRA proceeding, where the ALJ concluded that the case was not a traditional reasonableness review. Barry noted that a final decision on the 2005 ERRA forecast has become contingent on receiving a final decision in the 2004 proceeding. With respect to the issues anticipated to be resolved in the 2004 ERRA forecast proposed decision, Chaw summarized PG&E's position that it is simply implementing the ongoing CTC calculation in accordance with Commission decisions. Huffman pointed out that D02-11-022 adopted the total portfolio methodology for direct access customers, and that other decisions adopted the statutory methodology for customer departing load. Chaw stated that in the 2004 ERRA, MUNIs are essentially relitigating legal and policy decisions in these prior direct access suspension decisions. Chaw noted that PG&E was pleased to see the recent draft resolutions approving its 2003 Quarterly Transaction Advice Letter filings.
