ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE'S RULING

SETTING COMMENTS AND REPLIES TO STATUS CONFERENCE ISSUES

This ruling sets dates for opening and reply comments to a remote virtual status conference that took place on November 14, 2023. During the status conference parties expressed interest in having time to consult with colleagues and constituents to prepare and file written comments.

Opening comments are set for November 27, 2023, and reply comments for December 4, 2023.

1.   Background

On November 14, 2023, a virtual status conference was held to discuss two distinct issues. One, the Center for Sustainable Energy's (CSE) motion filed on October 9, 2023, regarding a budget reconciliation with SDG&E on authorized budget amounts and carryover funding. Two, to hear from parties regarding the structure necessary to create a new statewide program administrator(s) for the Self-Generation Incentive Program (SGIP) that would serve customers of publicly-owned utilities.

During the status conference parties discussed the two issues above as well as other related items. To give parties an opportunity to accurately capture their remarks on these and other issues it is reasonable to provide time for opening and reply comments.

2. Conclusion

To create a more accurate record in Rulemaking R. 20-05-012, it is reasonable for parties to have time to file opening and reply comments.

IT IS RULED that:

1. Opening comments to the virtual status conference hearing in Rulemaking R.20-05-012 are due on November 27, 2023.

2. Reply comments to the virtual status conference hearing in Rulemaking R.20-05-012 are due on December 4, 2023.

Dated November 17, 2023, at San Francisco, California.
