(4) The issues to be considered are
(Example: The utility should refund the overbilled amount of $78.00):

I request that the CPUC investigate the disputed retroactive electricity charges of $11,555.34, including the administrative fee. SCE initially attributed the problem to a meter malfunction but later alleged meter tampering. I dispute these charges and request the original meter data, technical evidence, and verifiable month-by-month calculations. I request cancellation of the disputed charges, a refund of any improperly collected payments, review of applicable small-business protections, and protection against disconnection while this complaint is pending. Alternatively, I request that any valid charges be recalculated according to applicable law. Please see Attachment A for complete details.

(5) The proposed schedule for resolving the complaint within 12 months (if categorized as adjudicatory) or 18 months (if categorized as ratesetting) is as follows:

Prehearing Conference: Approximately 30 to 40 days from the date of filing of the Complaint.
Hearing: Approximately 50 to 70 days from the date of filing of the Complaint.

Prehearing Conference (Example: 6/1/09): 12/10/2026

Formal Complaint Statement — Southern California Edison

I am filing this formal complaint against Southern California Edison (SCE) concerning disputed retroactive electricity charges billed to my small barbershop, BARBERING, in Pomona, California. SCE's September 18, 2026 bill stated a total amount due of $11,555.34, including an administration fee of $1,035.08. I dispute the basis, calculation, and permissible period of the retroactive charges.

SCE initially described the matter as a meter-related problem, but later attributed the charges to an alleged alteration involving the electrical installation. I request that SCE explain these differing descriptions and provide its inspection reports, supporting evidence, dates, and the specific basis for any allegation of alteration. I did not knowingly alter the metering equipment and was unaware of the reported problem before SCE identified it.

SCE provided a 70-page September 2026 billing statement containing monthly usage figures, reversed charges, and rebilled amounts, including adjustments for periods dating back to 2023. However, that statement does not include the original electronic records allegedly recovered from the removed meter's memory or a technical report explaining how those records were extracted, validated, and translated into the monthly charges. I cannot independently verify the claimed historical usage from the billing statement alone. I am not asserting that recovery of meter data is impossible or that the figures are necessarily false; I am requesting substantiation.

I request production and review of the original meter data and relevant logs, meter identification and testing records, extraction methodology, inspection findings, and a month-by-month reconciliation of recorded or estimated usage, prior bills, revised usage, rates, and charges. SCE should also explain the period selected for retroactive billing and the basis for its administration fee.

SCE sent disconnection notices, including a notice dated October 20, 2026. To avoid interruption of electricity to my business, I made a first payment of $456.43 under a 25-payment arrangement established by SCE, with installments of $456.43 in addition to my regular monthly electricity bills. I made that payment to maintain service, not as an admission that the disputed charges are valid. On October 28, 2026, my account showed a balance of $10,913.74, and an SCE representative told me that the disconnection notice was no longer active. The extra installments place a substantial financial burden on my small business.

My primary requested remedy is cancellation of the disputed retroactive charges and reversal or refund of any associated amounts improperly collected. Alternatively, if any portion is found to be valid, I request recalculation and reduction to the amount legally permitted, including consideration of all applicable microbusiness protections and limits on backbilling. The September 2026 statement itself refers to micro-business certification and CPUC Decisions D.10-10-032 and D.10-11-037. I request a determination of whether these protections apply given SCE's stated reasons for the charges. I also request appropriate protection from disconnection based on the disputed amount while this complaint is pending, as allowed by applicable rules.

Dear Yeni Palacios:

The Consumer Affairs Branch (CAB) of the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) has received your additional concerns regarding your complaint against Utility Name, which will be used to initiate the informal appeal process.

We have reopened your case for further review and requested additional information from the utility to address your concerns. We will verify whether the utility has followed the applicable CPUC Rules and Regulations. Please allow up to 30 days for our review.

Once the review is complete, we will contact you in writing with the outcome. Thank you for allowing us to assist you.

WHAT YOU MUST DO IF YOU WANT CAB TO RECONSIDER ITS REVIEW OF YOUR COMPLAINT

The Consumer Affairs Branch (CAB) of the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) does its best in all cases to use the information available to us to obtain a favorable resolution of each consumer's complaint. We realize that the outcome of this case may disappoint you. If you meet either one of the two limited exceptions below, you have the opportunity to file a request to review your case within 15 business days of the date on this letter:

If you have new evidence that would result in a favorable finding on your complaint, then file a REQUEST TO CONSIDER NEW EVIDENCE, or if you are able to show CAB made a mistake by failing to consider evidence, made a factual mistake, or made a mistake on law, then file an INFORMAL APPEAL.

The remainder of this letter provides both a summary and detailed requirements for these two processes.

SUMMARY: REQUEST TO CONSIDER NEW EVIDENCE

Prominently label your letter as "REQUEST TO CONSIDER NEW EVIDENCE."

Please include all of the following:

- Our informal complaint number; 748500
- A brief description of the new evidence.
- A statement that shows how the new evidence would necessarily change the disposition of your complaint.
- Attach a copy of any new evidence.

SUMMARY: INFORMAL APPEAL

Prominently label your letter as INFORMAL APPEAL (for example this label might appear in the subject line or header/footer, in capital letters, in a larger font etc.)

Include all of the following:

- Our informal complaint number; 748500
- The type of error(s) you think CAB made.
- A description of each error.
- A statement that shows how correcting the error(s) would necessarily change the disposition of your complaint.

DETAILED INSTRUCTIONS FOR SUBMISSION OF NEW EVIDENCE

You have one chance, and one only, to present new evidence. If you find additional new evidence after you have already sent your request to us, CAB will not consider that as new evidence. All additional information is not evidence. Merely supplying us with additional information is not enough to warrant further consideration. The new evidence must be significant. “Significant” means that the new evidence, either by itself or in consideration with the other existing evidence, would justify a favorable finding in your case. Simply attaching a copy of a bill, etc., does not meet this requirement.

PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION
320 W. 4th STREET, SUITE 520
LOS ANGELES, CA 90013

There is no limit to additional evidence that you may provide. However, please observe the following guidelines:

Do not re-submit material that you already sent to us. It is not the quantity of evidence, but the quality that is critical. Rearguing or repeating your case IS NOT new evidence. CAB will reject any such request at once, and will send you a form letter stating the reason for rejecting your request.

Some examples of valid additional information are: once you read the utility response to your complaint, you realized the utility’s reasoning relied on a document that you have, and your additional document contradicts the utility's justification.

If you submit a request to us, and we deny it, you may still submit an Informal Appeal. Please note that the requirements to file an Informal Appeal are very strict.

You should address your request as outlined. Should you fail to include any of the information that we require, your request for additional consideration can be dismissed at once. CAB will inform you of whether we re-opened your case or not.

DETAILED INSTRUCTIONS FOR SUBMISSION OF AN INFORMAL APPEAL

In order to successfully appeal CAB's findings, you must meet requirements that are both strict and narrow. You must show that CAB made one or the three specific types of errors below:

- CAB made a mistake in the facts in the case;
- or CAB made a mistake in the laws in the case ;
- or CAB made a mistake by not considering evidence that would have resulted in a favorable finding in your case.

There is no limit to how many errors you may identify. Your identification of errors should refer to your existing documentation, such as CAB's letter closing the case or your original complaint letter. An appeal must strictly relate to the information provided to CAB. If you did not previously send evidence to CAB, CAB did not make any error. If we dismiss your appeal, you MAY NOT file a REQUEST TO CONSIDER NEW EVIDENCE.

You must provide a list of the mistakes that you contend that CAB made, and you must relate those mistakes to the case findings. You may not submit new evidence. If you wish to submit new evidence, you should file a REQUEST TO CONSIDER NEW EVIDENCE.

Subject: Commission File No: 748500 for Complaint with Southern California Edison Company

Dear Yeni Barber Ring:

The Consumer Affairs Branch (CAB) of the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) has completed its review of your complaint against Southern California Edison Company (SCE). As part of the review, CAB considered the information that you provided, the information that SCE provided to us about your account and applicable codes, orders and tariffs.

In your complaint, you stated that you dispute an SCE rebill of $11,555.34 issued on September 18, 2026, after SCE discovered your meter had been under-registering usage, replaced it, and then rebilled charges back to 2023 along with a $1,035.08 administration fee. SCE reports that the rebill was calculated under Rule 17, which governs billing adjustments for inaccurate meter readings. You also asked whether micro-business protections apply, but SCE states it cannot determine eligibility and has not received the required self-certification affidavit. Until that documentation is submitted, the rebill remains valid. SCE advised you to complete and submit the affidavit and states no adjustment is warranted at this time. The CPUC complaint is now closed.

Based on the review of this information, CAB has determined that SCE is not in violation of the rules or regulations of the CPUC. If you disagree with this result, you may either provide new evidence or appeal. Detailed instructions for sending new evidence or an appeal are attached. You must file within 15 days of this letter and include supporting documentation. Please provide any information you believe contradicts the utility's representations.

Sincerely,

Subject: Commission File No: 748500 for Complaint with Southern California Edison Company

Dear Barber Ring:

The Consumer Affairs Branch (CAB) of the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) has completed its review of your Informal Appeal regarding your complaint against SCE. The utility reported that necessary steps have been taken to resolve your concerns, and you were sent written notification of the resolution, a copy of which was also provided to the CPUC.

In your additional correspondence submitted to CAB dated October 05, 2026, you stated that SCE closed your case before fully evaluating your eligibility for micro-business protections and requested further review of the backbilling charges and applicable tariff provisions.

SCE investigated and reported to CAB that although your account was later designated as a Micro Business, the disputed charges resulted from a meter-panel bypass and were billed under Tariff Rule 17.E for Unauthorized Use. SCE stated that the three-month backbilling limitation for Small and Micro Business customers does not apply to unauthorized-use cases. SCE maintained that the charges were valid but offered an extended payment arrangement and waived late fees while the payment plan remains active. The utility considers the matter resolved and the complaint closed.

After carefully reviewing the information you provided, along with the details submitted by SCE and the applicable codes, orders, and tariffs, CAB has determined that SCE is not in violation of CPUC rules or regulations.

As this concludes the Informal Appeal process, if you disagree with this resolution, your next step is to file a Formal Complaint. You may do so using the following link:

Dear Yeni Barber Ring:

The Consumer Affairs Branch (CAB) of the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) assists consumers with resolving regulated complaints against their utility providers. CAB is reviewing the complaint you have submitted against Southern California Edison Company.

As part of our review process, we asked that the utility provide CAB with information about your account and to specifically address your concerns. We will review the information provided by you and the utility and verify whether the utility has followed all the applicable CPUC Rules and Regulations.

After completing our review, we will contact you in writing to inform you of our conclusion. Generally, you should expect our review to take a minimum of at least forty-five calendar (45) days. If we find the process needs to take additional time due to the complexities of your case, we will notify you in writing. Please keep a record of the file number as shown above and have it available if you contact us regarding your case. We appreciate the opportunity to assist you.

Dear Ms. Ring,

Thank you for contacting Southern California Edison (SCE) regarding your concerns about the rebill issued on your account following the discovery of a meter registration issue.

Our review found that the rebill was calculated in accordance with SCE Rule 17, which governs billing corrections when a meter is found to have inaccurately measured energy usage. Based on the information available at the time of the rebill, SCE applied the provisions of Rule 17 consistent with standard billing requirements.

Regarding your question about micro-business protections, SCE cannot determine or certify whether a customer qualifies as a micro-business under applicable law. Customers who believe they meet the eligibility requirements must review the applicable criteria and submit the required affidavit or self-certification documentation through the established process.

If you believe your business meets the applicable micro-business requirements, please review and complete SCE Form 14-904, Micro-Business Self-Certification Affidavit. SCE cannot make the required factual representations on your behalf. The customer or an authorized representative must review the eligibility criteria and certify, under penalty of perjury, that the business qualifies.

The form is available here: SCE Micro-Business Self-Certification Affidavit. [sce.com]

The form directs customers to return the completed affidavit to SelfCertification@sce.com, by fax to 626-633-3243, or by mail to Southern California Edison, Micro-Business Self Certification, P.O. Box 800, Rosemead, CA 91770-0800.

At this time, the rebill remains valid as originally issued, and SCE's position remains unchanged.

Sincerely,

Kari Gardner

Dear Ms. Gardner,

I am writing regarding your email dated October 20, 2026, in which you confirmed my 25-month payment arrangement and stated that late fees associated with the outstanding balance would be waived while I maintain the payment plan.

I made my first payment of $456.43 on October 26, 2026, and my payment arrangement is currently active.

However, my October bill includes a late payment charge of $40.63.

On October 28, 2026, I contacted Southern California Edison customer service. The representative informed me that late fees would continue to be charged monthly, gradually decreasing as my outstanding balance decreases. I was instructed to contact your department regarding these charges.

I respectfully request:

1. Removal of the $40.63 late fee.
2. Written confirmation that late fees associated with the disputed balance will not continue during my payment arrangement.
3. An explanation of why this charge appeared despite the waiver confirmed in your October 20 email.

4. A refund or credit for any improperly assessed late fees.

Please note that I continue to dispute the approximately $11,000 in retroactive charges. My participation in the payment arrangement does not mean that I accept the disputed balance.

I would appreciate your written response.

Thank you for your assistance.

Sincerely,
Yeni Miriam Palacios Núñez

Subject: CPUC Complaint 748500

Dear Ms. Barber Ring,

Thank you for allowing Southern California Edison (SCE) the opportunity to further review your concerns regarding the retroactive charges on your account and the applicability of the Micro Business protections.

We completed an additional review with our Billing and Revenue Protection teams. Our records confirm that your account was designated as a Small Business beginning January 1, 2025, and a Micro Business designation was added on October 4, 2026. The micro-business is not needed on your account as you already meet the Small-Business designation based on your electrical usage.

However, the charges you are disputing were not the result of an SCE billing or meter error which is where the provisions for Small, or Micro, Business applies. During an inspection on July 26, 2025, SCE identified a meter-panel bypass at the property that prevented the full amount of electricity being consumed at the premises from being accurately billed. Revenue Protection subsequently calculated the previously unbilled energy associated with the bypass condition and processed the retroactive billing.

We understand that you have indicated you were unaware of this condition. Our review also indicates that the condition existed when you assumed responsibility for the service.

The distinction between a billing or meter error and the condition identified at the property is important. SCE Tariff Rule 17.E, Adjustment of Bills for Unauthorized Use, specifically includes meter tampering, unauthorized connections, theft, fraud, and intentional or unintentional use of energy for which SCE is denied full compensation. Rule 17.E permits SCE to estimate and bill for unauthorized energy use.

Additionally, Rule 17 excludes Unauthorized Use and meter-registration errors caused by meter tampering from the provisions governing ordinary Meter Errors and excludes Unauthorized Use from the provisions governing Billing Errors. Therefore, the three-month rebilling limitation applicable to qualifying Small Business or Micro Business billing or meter errors does not apply to this Revenue Protection adjustment.

We recognize that receiving a significant balance that you did not anticipate creates a financial burden. While our review supports the validity of the rebilled charges, SCE is willing to provide you with a reasonable installment arrangement of up to 25 months to pay the outstanding arrears. I have currently placed a 25-month installment plan on your account to protect it from any risk of disconnection for now. the first date of this installment plan will be October 30th for the amount of $456.43. Each month by the 30th of the month an installment will be due for the same amount of $456.43 until the rebilled balance is paid in full. I have also placed a waiver of late fees associated with this balance while you maintain this installment plan.

Because our investigation indicates that the bypass condition existed at the property before your responsibility for the service, you may also wish to discuss this matter with the property owner. The property owner may have additional information concerning the pre-existing condition or be able to assist you in determining what other remedies may be available.

We appreciate the opportunity to complete this additional review and hope this explanation clarifies why your Micro Business certification does not change the treatment of these particular charges. We remain available to work with you on a payment arrangement that provides additional time to address the balance. A copy of this letter and our investigative records have been provided to the CPUC for their records as well.

Sincerely,

Kari Gardner

Rates and applicable rules: Available at www.sce.com or upon request.

Past due bills

When is my bill past due? It is past due 20 days after the preparation date, which was 09/18/26.

- Unable to pay: If payment arrangements were not extended to you by SCE pursuant to SCE's filed tariffs, you may contact the California Public Utilities Commission.
- For safety reasons, if service is disconnected, please ensure any sensitive or potentially hazardous equipment is unplugged on the day of reconnection. For additional home safety tips, visit www.sce.com/safety or call SCE at 1-800-655-4555.

What is the Late Payment Charge (LPC)?

0.8% will be applied to the total unpaid balance if payment is not received by the due date on this bill (except for CARE and state agency accounts).

What is a rotating outage?

Rotating outages are controlled electrical outages used to avoid widespread or uncontrolled blackouts. Your Rotating Outage Group number is located on page 1, upper left, of your SCE bill. Your rotating outage group number may change at any time. For more information, visit www.sce.com/rotating outage.

What is the Power Charge Indifference Adjustment (PCIA)?

The PCIA is a charge to ensure that both SCE customers and those who have left SCE service to purchase electricity from other providers pay for the above market costs for electric generation resources that were procured by SCE on their behalf. 'Above market' refers to the difference between what the utility pays for electric generation and current market prices for the sale of those resources.

Disputed bills

If you believe there is an error on your bill or have a question about your service, please call Southern California Edison (SCE) customer support at 1-800-655-4555*. Things you should know

Fixed Recovery Charge

SCE has been permitted to issue bonds that enable it to recover more quickly certain costs related to preventing and mitigating catastrophic wildfires. Your bill for electric service includes a Fixed Recovery Charge that has been approved by the CPUC to repay those bonds. The right to recover the Fixed Recovery Charge has been transferred to a separate entity (called the Special Purpose Entity) that issued the bonds and does not belong to SCE. SCE is collecting the Fixed Recovery Charge on behalf of the Special Purpose Entity.

Micro-business Certification

Pursuant to CPUC D.10-10-032 and D.10-11-037, customers who meet the definition of a "micro-business" as defined by California Government Code Section 14837, may be rebilled for a maximum of three months rather than three years for an undercharge resulting from a billing or meter error. To learn more and what you can do to self-certify as a "micro-business" please call 1-800-990-7788 or visit us at sce.com.

Public Safety Power Shutoffs

- Your safety is our top priority. The changing climate, below average rainfall this year and extended periods of high winds increase the potential for a fire to spread.
- When fire weather conditions are present, we may temporarily shut off power to reduce the risk of a fire caused by utility equipment. This is known as a Public Safety Power Shutoff (PSPS), and it saves lives.
- Losing power for any amount of time is a hardship; while it's frustrating and inconvenient, safety must come first.

UNDERSTANDING EMF

ELECTRIC AND MAGNETIC FIELDS

Questions have been raised about the possible health effects of exposure to 60-hertz (power frequency) electric and magnetic fields (EMF*), which are found wherever you have electric power. This article contains information that will help you understand the EMF issue, plus practical tips you can use if you want to reduce your exposure at home and at work.

Campos Eléctricos y Magnéticos (EMF):
Si desea recibir información en español, comuníquese con SCE al 1-800-441-2233.

EMF information provided as required by the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) EMF policy.

*The term EMF in this publication refers to extremely low frequency (ELF) 60-hertz electric and magnetic fields associated with power delivered by electric utilities. It does not refer to radio frequency (RF) waves associated with wireless communications such as cell phones.

Can EMF Harm Your Health?

Electric and magnetic fields are present wherever electricity flows--around appliances and power lines, in offices, and at schools and homes. Many researchers believe that if there is a risk of adverse health effects from usual residential exposures to EMF, it is probably just at the detection limit of human health studies; nonetheless, the possible risk warrants further investigation. The varying results from epidemiological studies, which looked at estimated EMF exposures and childhood leukemia, are consistent with a weak link. Laboratory studies, including studies investigating a possible mechanism for health effects (mechanistic studies), provide little or no evidence to support this weak link.

The results from many research studies have been evaluated by international, national, and California EMF research programs to determine whether EMF poses any health risk. Given the uncertainty of the issue, the medical and scientific communities have been unable to conclude that usual residential exposures to EMF cause health effects, or to establish any standard or level of residential exposure that is known to be either safe or harmful. These conclusions remain unchanged by recent studies.

World Health Organization Findings

The World Health Organization (WHO) completed a review of the potential health implications of extremely low frequency EMF, which includes power-frequency fields. Their conclusions and recommendations were presented in a June 2007 report known as the Extremely Low Frequency Fields, Environmental Health Criteria Monograph No. 238.

The WHO report concluded that evidence linking extremely low frequency (ELF) magnetic fields and childhood leukemia "is not strong enough to be considered causal but sufficiently strong to remain a concern." "Virtually all of the laboratory evidence and the mechanistic evidence fail to support" this reported association. For all other diseases, there is inadequate or no evidence of health effects at low exposure levels.

The report emphasized that, given the weakness of the evidence for health effects, the health benefits of exposure reduction are unclear and adopting policies based on arbitrary low exposure limits is not warranted. In light of this situation, WHO made these and other recommendations:

* National authorities should implement communication programs with all stakeholders to enable informed decision-making, including how individuals can reduce their own exposure.

* Policy makers and community planners should implement very low-cost measures to reduce exposures when constructing new facilities and designing new equipment, including appliances.

* Policy makers should establish guidelines for ELF field exposure for both the general public and workers. The best source of guidance for both exposure levels and the principles of scientific review are the international guidelines.

* Government and industry should promote research to reduce the uncertainty of the scientific evidence on the health effects of ELF field exposure. Several recommended research projects are already under way through the Electric Power Research Institute.

Magnetic Fields at Home
(Measurements are in milligauss.)

	1.2" away	12" away	36" away
Microwave Oven	750 to 2,000	40 to 80	3 to 8
Clothes Washer	8 to 400	2 to 30	0.1 to 2
Electric Range	60 to 2,000	4 to 40	0.1 to 1
Compact Fluorescent Bulb	0 to 32.8	0 to 0.1	0
Hair Dryer	60 to 20,000	1 to 70	0.1 to 3
LCD/Plasma TV	1.1 to 73.6	0 to 2.5	0 to 2.2

Magnetic Fields Outside
(Maximum values may be lower for some California utilities.)

Distribution Lines	1 to 80 milligauss under the line
Transmission Lines	1 to 300 milligauss at the edge of the right-of-way

What You Can Do

In a situation of scientific uncertainty and public concern, WHO recommended that utilities explore “very low-cost” ways to reduce EMF exposure from new or upgraded facilities. SCE and other California public utilities have been pursuing no-cost and low-cost measures to reduce EMF levels from new utility transmission lines and substation projects. You, too, may want to take no-cost and low-cost measures to reduce your EMF exposure at home and at work.

Human studies have not produced a consensus about any health benefits from changing the way people use electric appliances. But, if you feel reducing your EMF exposure would be beneficial, you can increase your distance from electric appliances and/or limit the amount of time you use appliances at home or at work. For instance, you can place your electric clock away from the head of your bed. Increasing your distance from it and other appliances, such as televisions, computer monitors, and microwave ovens, can reduce your EMF exposure.

You can also reduce your EMF exposure by limiting the time you spend using personal appliances, such as hair dryers, electric razors, heating pads, and electric blankets. You may also want to limit the time you spend using electric cooking appliances.

You can locate the sources of EMF in your work environment and spend break time in lower-field areas.

It is not known whether such actions will have any impact on your health.

Additional Information Is Available

SCE provides free EMF information packages and home/business measurements upon request. For any of these services, please call 1-800-200-4723 (4SCE) or visit www.sce.com/EMF.
