1. Background/Overview: Throughout this proceeding (and its predecessor proceeding) CforAT has been an active participant in order to address ongoing issues of concern to our constituency of customers with disabilities, who are disproportionately low-income and who rely on the effective administration of the California LifeLine program. CforAT has regularly participated as part of a broad coalition of advocates as appropriate in order to efficiently advance the interests of our constituency. In conjunction with the various Decisions addressed in this compensation request, CforAT has provided input on multiple issues including revisions to the Specific Service Amount (SSA) and Minimum Service Standards (MSS) (including freezing the SSA), multiple petitions for modification, enrollment for individuals without social security numbers, and strategies to address the Home Broadband Gap. 2. SSA/MSS Over the course of this proceeding, the Commission has considered and modified the Specific Support Amount (SSA, commonly referred to as the LifeLine subsidy) and the minimum standards for LifeLine service (known as the Minimum Service Standards, or MSS). The SSA and MSS were the subject of discussion throughout the proceeding. CforAT last received Intervenor Compensation for work related to the SSA/MSS in D.23-06-048, which compensated CforAT for work performed through November 22, 2021.		We note that this is a summary of when CforAT last received compensation for work related to SSA/MSS. Public Utilities Code §1802(j) states that a substantial contribution “has substantially assisted the commission in the making of its order or decision because the order or decision has adopted in whole or in part one or more factual contentions, legal contentions, or specific policy or procedural recommendations presented by the customer.” As the Commission has not made a decision on the SSA methodology for wireless and wireline, we deny all hours allocated to this issue. See Part III.D [1].
D.24-05-003 “temporarily freezes the specific support amount (SSA) for wireless and wireline providers at $19.00 per month from January 1, 2025 through December 31, 2026, or until the Commission establishes a new methodology for calculating the SSA,	CforAT’s input throughout the portions of the proceeding covered in this compensation request assisted the Commission in its decision to freeze the SSA D.24-12-006 Froze the Specific Support Amount (SSA) for the LifeLine Program. and contributed to the Commission’s determination that additional work was	We note CforAT’s general support of the SSA Freeze. whichever occurs first.” D.24-05-003 at p. 1. CforAT generally supported this outcome based on various arguments and analysis as addressed below.	needed for a more comprehensive review of the SSA process. CforAT is continuing to work on this issue in R.25-11-005 (the successor proceeding to R.20-02-008), but it is appropriate for the Commission to award compensation at this time for our contributions supporting the Commission’s deliberative process in considering how to best evaluate the SSA.
	As a result of a scrivener’s error, CforAT’s February 10, 2025 Intervenor Compensation Claim requested compensation for work it had performed after the issuance of D.24-05-003 and D.24-12-006. In D.25-07-033 (which granted compensation to CforAT for contributions to those two decisions), the Commission stated that “Comments on the SSA/MSS Staff Proposal include both SSA/MSS and Foster Youth issues. Because the SSA/MSS issues have not been decided, those efforts are partially not compensable and are denied without prejudice.” D.25-07-006. It is appropriate for CforAT to include time spent on SSA/MSS issues after the issuance of D.23-06-048 in this compensation request.	We note that this is a summary of when CforAT last received compensation for work related to SSA/MSS.
Wireless Providers: CforAT argued that there was no nexus between the wireless LifeLine subsidy and providers’ actual costs of offering LifeLine. Comments on SSA Staff Proposal at p.1; Comments on SSA Rate Freeze at pp. 1-2; Comments on SSA Freeze PD.	“As noted by the Staff Proposal and CforAT’s comments, California LifeLine’s SSA is an outlier among other states and untethered from providers’ services.” D.24-12-006 at p. 10.	Verified. The correct citations are Comments on SSA Staff Proposal at 2 and Comments on SSA Freeze PD at 1.
CforAT supported a freeze as reasonable and as a responsible stewardship of ratepayer funds. Comments on SSA Freeze at p.	The Decision notes that the Commission is “concerned that allowing the current SSA methodology to continue unchecked and heavily dependent on	Verified

To protect this public interest, we agree with parties that the Commission should modify the SSA methodology established in D.10-11-033 so that the SSA is better aligned with the benefits Californians receive and more transparent." D.24-12-006 at p. 10. Accordingly, the Commission froze the SSA while looking to revisit the existing methodology. Id.
CforAT recommended that the Commission regularly review and update the SSA. Comments on SSA/MSS Staff Proposal at pp. 6-7.	"While we authorize this temporary SSA freeze of $19.00 per month for wireless and wireline providers, the Commission also commits to updating its SSA methodology." D.24-12-006 at p. 12.	Verified
Wireline Providers: CforAT argued that the Commission should move away from the existing COLR mechanism (which calculates the subsidy based on the highest basic service rate charged by an ILEC) because AT&T's (the provider that has consistently had the highest basic service rate) basic service rate is an outlier and AT&T's rate hikes over the years have been higher than those of other providers. Comments on SSA Staff Proposal at pp. 1, 6-7; Comments on SSA Rate Freeze at p. 1.	The Decision notes that the Commission is "concerned that allowing the current SSA methodology to continue unchecked and heavily dependent on one provider's (AT&T's) rate increases places an unreasonable burden on Californians who pay a surcharge to fund the SSA. To protect this public interest, we agree with parties that the Commission should modify the SSA methodology established in D.10-11-033 so that the SSA is better aligned with the benefits Californians receive and more transparent." D.24-12-006 at p. 10. Accordingly, the Commission froze the SSA. Id.	Verified
CforAT supported a freeze as reasonable and a responsible stewardship of ratepayer funds. Comments on SSA Staff Proposal at p. 2. To protect this public interest, we agree with parties that the Commission should modify the SSA methodology established in D.10-11-033 so that the SSA is better aligned with the benefits Californians receive and more transparent.” D.24-12-006 at p. 10. Accordingly, the Commission froze the SSA while looking to revisit the existing methodology. Id.
Periodic Review of SSA: CforAT supported the SSA Staff Proposal but recommended that the Commission regularly review and update the SSA. Comments on SSA Staff Proposal at pp. 7-8; Comments on SSA Freeze at pp. 2-3.	“While we authorize this temporary SSA freeze of $19.00 per month for wireless and wireline providers, the Commission also commits to updating its SSA methodology. For this reason, the temporary freeze of $19.00 per month from January 1, 2025 through December 31, 2026, or until the Commission updates its SSA methodology, whichever occurs first, is justified and reasonable.” D.24-12-006 at p. 12.	Verified. We note that this contribution was already mentioned above. The correct citation is Comments on SSA Staff Proposal at 6-7. References to the SSA freeze are not relevant to CforAT’s recommendation to regularly review and update the SSA.
CforAT supported the Staff Proposal’s recommendation that the Commission consider a new SSA mechanism. Comments on SSA Proposal at pp. 3-4; Reply Comments on SSA Proposal at pp. 1-7.	While the Commission did not adopt the Staff Proposal’s specific recommendations, it agreed that a new SSA mechanism was necessary. D.24-12-006 at p. 11. “To protect this public interest, we agree with parties that the Commission should modify the SSA methodology established in D.10-11-033 so that the SSA is better aligned with the benefits Californians receive and more transparent.” D.24-12-006 at p. 10. CforAT argued that the Commission should reject Provider’s arguments that competition was sufficient to ensure that the SSA and MSS were reasonable. Reply	While the Commission did not expressly address this issue, it did, (as described above), order a temporary freeze of the SSA. D.24-12-006 at p. 11. This decision implicitly rejects providers’ arguments, and it is reasonable to assume that CforAT’s discussion of	Verified

Comments on SSA Proposal at pp. 7-8.	competition issues contributed to the decision.
4. Home Broadband Pilot: D.25-08-050 created a three-year, technology neutral, Home Broadband Pilot to test the viability of a broadband subsidy for low-income customers.	See discussion below.	We note that this is a summary of D.25-08-050.
CforAT argued that home broadband is a necessity to allow Californians to fully and meaningfully participate in society. Comments on Home Broadband Gap at pp. 6-8.	D.25-08-050 explicitly notes that CforAT “produced data supporting the Report’s findings,” (D.25-08-050 at pp. 9, 11) and, citing that data, found that “home broadband, including fixed and wireless, is a necessary service for California households.” D.25-08-050 at p. 11.	Verified
CforAT argued that home broadband was unaffordable for many low-income households. Comments on Home Broadband Gap at pp. 4-6; Reply Comments on Home Broadband Gap at pp. 2-4.	“We also find that affordability is a significant barrier to home broadband for many California LifeLine-eligible households. This broadband affordability gap impacts the ability of low-income Californians to participate in telework, telelearning, telehealth, public safety, civic engagement, social media, website browsing, and streaming activities at the same level as higher-income Californians.” D.25-08-050 at pp. 11-12.	Verified
CforAT argued that a pilot program was unnecessary, and that the Commission should proceed by adopting a permanent home broadband subsidy. Comments on Home Broadband Gap at p. 6; Reply Comments on Home Broadband Gap at p. 8.	While Commission did not adopt CforAT’s recommendation, D.25-08-050 does indicate that the Commission considered CforAT’s arguments. “While we recognize CforAT’s and the Independent Small LECs’ position that further statutory changes may be unnecessary for the Commission to adopt a permanent broadband program, we see value in adopting a pilot.” D.25-08-050 at p. 13. The above language indicates that the Commission did consider CforAT’s arguments.	Verified

	Accordingly, it is fair to conclude that CforAT's arguments assisted the Commission in making an order or decision. See D.25-07-031 at p. 29; D.05-04-049 at p. 7 (“[e]ven where the Commission does not adopt any of the customer’s recommendations, compensation may be awarded if, in the judgment of the Commission, the customer’s participation substantially contributed to the decision or order.”)
CforAT argued that the Home Broadband Pilot should use the same eligibility criteria as the telephone LifeLine program. Comments on Home Broadband Gap at p. 11.	The Commission adopted the same criteria for eligibility as the criteria in the telephone LifeLine program. D.25-08-050 at p. 18.	Verified
CforAT argued that the existing California and Federal subsidies for LifeLine services were sufficient to pay for both mobile telephone and broadband services (Comments on Home Broadband Gap at p. 9), but insufficient to cover the cost of both fixed (i.e., home) telephone and broadband service. Comments on Home Broadband Gap at p. 9. CforAT further argued that the Commission should create a broadband subsidy for fixed broadband service, and that an additional subsidy for mobile service was unnecessary. Comments on Home Broadband Gap at p. 9.	The Commission authorized an additional subsidy for fixed broadband service. D.25-08-050 at p. 53, Ordering Paragraph 3.	Verified
CforAT cautioned that the abrupt termination of the federal ACP program had eroded customer trust in LifeLine and recommended that the Commission include	D.25-08-050 explicitly requires that Home Broadband Pilot program participants receive at least 30 days’ notice of changes to, or termination of, service. sufficient notice to customers before any wind-down of the Home Broadband Pilot. Comments on Home Broadband Gap at p. 20.
CforAT recommended a number of minimum service standards, including download and upload speeds of at least 100/20 Mbps and no data caps. Comments on Home Broadband Gap at pp. 11-12. CforAT further recommended that the Commission create a limited exception to the minimum service speeds for networks that are currently unable to meet the minimum standards. Comments on Home Broadband Gap at pp. 12-13.	The Commission set minimum download/upload speeds of 110/20 Mbps, with a limited exception where a provider's network is unable to meet the minimum standards. D.25-08-050 at pp. 25-26. The Commission did not prohibit data caps but did set a relatively high data cap of 1280 GB a month, and further directed staff to review the MSS at least once during the pilot to determine if those requirements are still sufficient. D.25-08-050 at p. 25.	Verified. The Commission adopted minimum download/upload speeds of 100/20 Mbps. See D.25-08-050 at 24.
CforAT argued that the Commission should not provide an additional subsidy for providers who could, but choose not to, participate in the federal Lifeline program. Comments on Home Broadband Gap at pp. 14-15.	"[W]e will not make up the federal subsidy difference for providers participating in the Pilot. Providers that are eligible for California LifeLine, but not federal Lifeline, will receive only the California LifeLine subsidy amount. Similarly, service providers without ETC designation will receive only the California LifeLine subsidy amount." D.25-08-050 at p. 31.	Verified
CforAT argued that the Commission should reject provider arguments that the Commission's minimum service standards somehow made the Pilot not "technologically neutral." Comments on Home Broadband PD at pp. 3-4.	"We, therefore, find that the Pilot is technology-neutral and decline to adopt NaLA's recommendations." D.25-08-050 at p. 38.	Verified Security Numbers to enroll in the LifeLine program. CforAT supported the creation of this process, but limited its participation on this issue to discussing the importance of any process being accessible to people with disabilities.

CforAT argued that online materials must be accessible to people with disabilities and designed in accordance with web accessibility guidelines. Reply Comments on SSN Ruling at pp. 2, 4; Comments on SSN PD at pp. 2-3.	“We also recognize that the integration of web technologies into the California LifeLine program raises legitimate accessibility concerns. The Commission must address these concerns under the Moore Act’s mandate to make high-quality communications services available to the greatest number of Californians and Government Code Section 11546.7. Under Government Code Section 11546.7(a), the Commission must ensure that its public websites comply with the current Web Content Accessibility Guidelines. We also recognize that the identity verification software being considered affords applicants additional time to access and use technology resources than the current process.” D.25-10-003 at p. 25 (internal citations omitted).	Verified. The correct citation is D.25-10-033 at 25.
CforAT recommended that the program should include in-person application assistance. Reply Comments on SSN Ruling at pp. 2-3.	D.25-10-003 directs Commission Staff to create a proposal for a “trusted partner network” where applicants can get assistance in local spaces like community-based organizations, clinics, and schools. D.25-10-003 at p. 16.	Verified. The correct citation is D.25-10-033 at 16.
CforAT argued that requiring that applicants provide three months of bank statements or pay for notary service could be cost-prohibitive. Reply Comments on SSN Ruling at p. 3; Comments on SSN PD at p. 3.	The Commission was “sensitive to the concerns raised by Consumer Coalition, CforAT, and Low-Income Advocates and can see how eligible Californians would struggle to provide bank statements or a notarized affidavit/self-declaration.” D.25-10-003 at p. 22. Accordingly, the Commission eliminated those requirements (although it did clarify that applicants would still	Verified be required to demonstrate income-based eligibility as required by General Order 153). D.25-10-003 at p. 22.

6. Resolution T-17889 Resolution T-17889 aligns the California Lifeline annual renewal requirements with the FCC’s renewal requirements. CforAT raised concerns that many consumers do not routinely respond to the Commission’s standard communications channels, and recommended that the Commission give customers an additional 30 days beyond the federal deadline for renewal. Doing so would result in customers seeing that their bill had increased by $9.25 a month (the amount of the federal subsidy), rather than increasing by both the state and federal subsidy. This would make it more likely that customers would respond by submitting the required renewal documents. CforAT Comments on Proposed Resolution T-17889 (July 28, 2025).	While Res. T-17889 declined to adopt CforAT’s recommendation, it did note that it reviewed and considered those recommendations. T-17889 at p. 9. Accordingly, it is fair to conclude that CforAT’s arguments assisted the Commission’s deliberations and thus contributed to its determinations while making an order or decision.	Verified
7. GO153-A D.25-11-008 adopted revisions to General Order153 (now General Order153-A) to reflect changes made by the Commission in previous decisions. The decision further resolved all issues raised in the scoping memo and closed the proceeding.	See discussion below.	We note that this is a summary of D.25-11-008.

8. Working Group: CforAT participated in the Renewals Working Group. Additionally, Kathryn (Kate) Woodford, CforATs’ Policy Analyst, is an ongoing participant in the LifeLine Working Group, broadly helping address issues as they arise. Topics discussed at these meetings included Social Security Number issues and the SSA/MSS. Ms. Woodford’s participation in these meetings (and CforAT’s review of information provided at these meetings) informed CforAT’s positions on the issues discussed above.	While not directly reflected in decisions, the Working Groups routinely support the effective management of the LifeLine program, and CforAT’s work in these Working Groups is appropriate and compensable. See D.24-03-025 at p. 14.	Public Utilities Code §1802(j) states that a substantial contribution “has substantially assisted the Commission in the making of its order or decision because the order or decision has adopted in whole or in part one or more factual contentions, legal contentions, or specific policy or procedural recommendations presented by the customer.” The Commission did not rely on any record from a LifeLine Renewals Working Group when resolving D.24-12-006, D.25-08-050, D.25-10-025, D.25-10-033, D.25-11-008, and Resolution T-17789. b. Were there other parties to the proceeding with positions similar to yours?	Yes	Verified
c. If so, provide name of other parties: The Utility Reform Network, The Greenlining Institute Additionally, a number of additional parties (Legal Aid Association of California, Maternal and Child Health Access, Neighborhood Legal Services of Los Angeles County, and Alameda County Homeless Action Center) shared CforAT’s position on the need to create a process for individuals without Social Security numbers to participate in the LifeLine program specifically.		Noted
d. Intervenor’s claim of non-duplication: As was the case in prior phases of this proceeding as well as its predecessor (R.11-03-013), CforAT has maintained our practice of working regularly with other consumer groups, including preparation of joint filings when appropriate. In preparing joint filings, we implement shared responsibilities, managed by conferring between the parties in order to work efficiently, and to avoid duplication. CforAT coordinated with TURN for most filings, whether or not we produced a joint document. When the organizations had different policy positions on specific issues, we still coordinated and addressed those issues where we agreed in collaborative fashion. Additionally, CforAT deferred to other consumer advocates’ expertise when appropriate. For example, CforAT’s has requested minimal hours addressing issues related to use of customer Social Security Numbers because TURN focused substantially on those issues. In contrast, CforAT maintained our specific focus on impacts on people with disabilities and medical needs throughout the proceeding.		Noted

PART III: REASONABLENESS OF REQUESTED COMPENSATION

A. General Claim of Reasonableness (§ 1801 and § 1806):

	CPUC Discussion
a. Intervenor’s claim of cost reasonableness: The importance of the issues under consideration in this proceeding is extremely high for all low-income customers, and even greater for CforAT’s constituency of customers with disabilities and medical needs who rely on affordable and accessible communications services to support their ability to live independently. For this reason, and to ensure that the needs of this unique constituency were addressed in all aspects of this proceeding, it is appropriate that CforAT expended substantial resources in our ongoing participation. As in prior phases, CforAT has continued to work diligently to ensure that the Commission appropriately takes into consideration the needs of vulnerable customers, whose health and safety are at risk when they lose access to communications services and who may have limited resources to take action on their own. While it remains difficult to assign a dollar value to the impact of the ongoing activity on de-energization issues, Customers with disabilities will benefit from CforAT’s diligent oversight and ongoing input on their communications needs, and all customers will benefit from efforts to increase the availability of LifeLine services and manage the amount that ratepayers pay in subsidies. In light of the ongoing importance of issues surrounding affordability to customers with disabilities and low-income households, CforAT’s request for compensation for our ongoing review and efforts to improve and protect the LifeLine program is reasonable.	After the adjustments made to this claim, the remainder of the claimed costs are reasonable. See Part III.D [1-3].
b. Reasonableness of hours claimed: In working with the other consumer advocates, the organizations generally split up assignments for separate research and drafting responsibilities and then conducted collaborative reviews and finalization of documents. In this way, the organizations work together effectively, while avoiding duplication of effort. Through this coordination, the consumer groups were able to continue to effectively address the broad array of issues that have been raised in this docket more effectively and efficiently than if each organization had tried to work alone. As appropriate, CforAT also coordinated with other active parties to minimize disputes and find areas of agreement on various issues. Overall, CforAT worked effectively to avoid duplication and to ensure that our input served to complement or supplement the input of other parties that share similar interests to our own.	After the adjustments made to this claim, the remainder of the claimed hours are reasonable. See Part III.D [1-3].

	CPUC Discussion
CforAT's lead attorney in this proceeding, Paul Goodman, has worked on LifeLine issues for many years and was therefore efficient in his review of issues. While Mr. Goodman was preparing for and participating in evidentiary hearings in another proceeding, CforAT's Legal Director Melissa Kasnitz and CforAT's Legal Fellow/Staff Attorney Rachel Sweetnam appropriately stepped in to ensure that the interests of persons with disabilities were protected. Accordingly, the CforAT's requested time is reasonable.

Item	Reason
[1] Reductions for efforts on issues deferred to R.25-11-005	Public Utilities Code §1802(j) states that a substantial contribution “has substantially assisted the commission in the making of its order or decision because the order or decision has adopted in whole or in part one or more factual contentions, legal contentions, or specific policy or procedural recommendations presented by the customer.”
	The Commission did not issue a decision on the Specific Support Amount methodology for wireless and wireline, as this issue was scoped into R.25-11-005.
