ORDER INSTITUTING RULEMAKING

1. Summary

The Commission issues this Order Instituting Rulemaking to review the rules and regulations governing interconnecting generation and storage resources to the electric distribution systems of Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E), Southern California Edison Company (SCE), and San Diego Gas & Electric Company (SDG&E). The current rules and regulations are set forth in Rule 21 of the Electric Tariffs of PG&E, SCE and SDG&E. In this rulemaking, we seek to review, and, if necessary, revise, Rule 21 to ensure that the interconnection process is timely, non-discriminatory, cost-effective, and transparent. We also seek to revise Rule 21 to incorporate processes appropriate for new technologies, such as energy storage. In addition, we intend to revise Rule 21 to ensure compliance with certain statutory obligations, such as those contained in Pub. Util. Code § 399.20(e).¹ Lastly, this rulemaking may be used by the Commission as the procedural forum for the recently initiated settlement efforts to address matters related to Rule 21.

2. Generation Programs and Interconnection

The California Renewables Portfolio Standard (RPS) Program set forth in §§ 399.11 - 399.22 requires Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E), Southern California Edison Company (SCE), and San Diego Gas & Electric Company (SDG&E) and other electricity retailers to procure 33% of their electricity from renewable resources by December 31, 2020. This 33% RPS requirement translates into the need for California investor-owned utilities (IOUs) to procure approximately 19.6 gigawatts (GW)² of new renewable resources in the next decade. In support of the 33% RPS requirement, the Legislature and the Commission designed electric procurement programs that seek to lower the transaction costs of renewable generation up to 20 megawatts (MW) in size with near-term on-line dates. These programs include the IOU Solar Photovoltaic programs, the Renewable Auction Mechanism, and the Renewable Feed-in Tariff.

In addition to these renewable programs, the Legislature and the Commission have also encouraged development of Qualifying Facilities (QFs)³ and Combined Heat and Power (CHP). Specifically, the Commission has established a feed-in tariff for efficient, greenhouse gas reducing CHP facilities up to 20 MW pursuant to Assembly Bill 1613 (Stats. 2007, ch. 713) (AB 1613)⁴ and standard contracts and a procurement mechanism for QFs of all sizes through Decision (D.) 10-12-035.

The procurement programs are largely succeeding in encouraging the development and procurement of small generation projects up to 20 MW.

² This represents the general 33% RPS trajectory. The total GW of new resources varies when technology, cost, environmental, and other constraints are applied. See Commission's Renewable Portfolio Standard Program Report to the California Legislature, First Quarter 2011 at 12:

<http://www.cpuc.ca.gov/NR/rdonlyres/62B4B596-1CE1-47C9-AB53-2DEF1BF52770/0/Q12011RPSReporttotheLegislatureFINAL.pdf>.

³ A QF is a qualifying small power production facilities and qualifying cogeneration facilities. A small power production facility is a generating facility of 80 MW or less whose primary energy source is renewable (hydro, wind or solar), biomass, waste, or geothermal resources. A cogeneration facility is a generating facility that sequentially produces electricity and another form of useful thermal energy (such as heat or steam) in a way that is more efficient than the separate production of both forms of energy.

However, the success of these procurement programs may be enhanced by timely and cost-effective interconnection to the distribution system. By this rulemaking, we seek to address the key policy and technical issues essential to timely, non-discriminatory, cost-effective and transparent interconnection.

Many entities participating in the Commission's renewable and CHP procurement programs for small generators seek interconnection to the IOUs' distribution systems. Presently, when interconnecting to the distribution system, a generator must comply with one of two interconnection tariffs: the Commission-jurisdictional Electric Tariff Rule 21, which we have previously discussed, or the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC)-jurisdictional Wholesale Distribution Access Tariffs (WDATs). The FERC-jurisdictional WDATs are filed by each IOU at FERC.

In general, when a generator seeks primarily to offset on-site load, interconnection under the California-jurisdictional Rule 21 occurs efficiently, cost-effectively, and under a proven regulatory structure. To date, more than 95,300 of these generators have been installed in California, representing approximately 880 MW of capacity.⁵ These are primarily net energy metering generators interconnecting under Rule 21. These generators are queued serially on a first-come, first-served basis and are interconnected serially, usually within 30 business days of submitting a complete interconnection request.

⁴ See, e.g., §§ 2840-2845 and Decision (D.) 09-12-042, D.10-12-055, and D.11-04-033.

⁵ California had 95,371 installed and interconnected systems under the California Solar Initiative Program and the Self-Generation Incentive Program as of August 3, 2011. See <http://www.californiasolarstatistics.ca.gov/> (updated biweekly). This total includes installations by IOUs and publicly owned utilities. The publicly owned utilities offer interconnection tariffs similar to Rule 21 for these types of customer.

In contrast, generators seeking to export a portion or all of their generation to their host utility's distribution system do not have a clear interconnection study process under Rule 21. For example, since 2008, one utility has received approximately 176 interconnection requests under Rule 21 for generators seeking to export or sell power to the utility and only two of those generators have been interconnected. This situation may become more prevalent as the renewable and CHP procurement programs for small generators are fully implemented.

3. Preliminary Scoping Memo - Issues

As set forth in Rule 7.1(d), we include a preliminary scoping memo in this Order Instituting Rulemaking. As discussed in the Sections below, this preliminary scoping memo is composed of the proposed issues, preliminary determination of category, preliminary determination of need for hearing, and proposed schedule.

The general scope of this proceeding is to consider revisions to PG&E's SCE's, and SDG&E's Electric Tariff Rule 21. A preliminary list of issues is identified below.

Issue 1: Reform Distribution-Level Interconnection Process and Reporting Requirements

Review and revise existing distribution-level interconnection procedures, including, but not limited to the following:

- Define the appropriate interconnection study process for all types of generation resources seeking interconnection to the distribution system.
- Create distribution-level interconnection procedures for storage technologies.
- Evaluate and determine appropriate processes for establishing distribution-level interconnection queues (serial or cluster).

- Establish data and reporting requirements.

Issue 2: Technology Operating Standards, Standardized Engineering Study Methodology, and Deliverability Study Methodology

Determine appropriate engineering standards and the appropriate path to qualify for resource adequacy, including but not limited to, the following:

- Evaluate the need to revise technical operating standards due to advances in technology, communications, and the potential need for the system operator to control these systems.
- Define distinct engineering methodologies based on the characteristics of the resource, such as the resource's impact on the transmission system.
- Establish a path to resource adequacy qualification for resources that have certain characteristics.

Issue 3: Limits on Distributed Generation Penetration

Review and define limits on the amount of generation that can be safely interconnected to the distribution system without additional engineering study, including, but not limited to, the following:

- Review and modify, if necessary, the screening mechanism that limits an expedited interconnection to fifteen percent of a line section's peak load.

Issue 4: Cost Allocation for Infrastructure Upgrades

Review existing infrastructure upgrade cost-allocation rules including, but not limited to, the following:

- Evaluate mechanisms to improve cost certainty around infrastructure upgrades throughout the interconnection study process.

- Evaluate methodologies to allocate infrastructure upgrade costs between generators and ratepayers.

Issue 5: Procedural Forum for Rule 21 Settlement Efforts

This rulemaking may be used by the Commission as the procedural forum for the recently initiated settlement efforts to address matters related to Rule 21.

4. Proceeding Category and Need for Hearings

Rule 7.1(d) of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure provides that a rulemaking order "shall preliminarily determine the category and need for hearing, and shall attach a preliminary scoping memo." This rulemaking is preliminarily determined to be ratesetting, as that term is defined in Rule 1.3(e). Rule 1.3(e) states "ratesetting proceedings are proceedings in which the Commission sets or investigates rates for a specifically named utility (or utilities), or establishes a mechanism that in turn sets the rates for a specifically named utility (or utilities)." This rulemaking will focus on, among other things, the allocation of costs associated with interconnecting distributed generation to the distribution systems of PG&E, SCE, and SDG&E.

Further, we preliminarily determine that evidentiary hearings are not needed in this proceeding. However, in addition to written comments, the record for this proceeding may be developed through workshops.

Any person who objects to the preliminary categorization of this rulemaking or the determination that hearings are not required shall state their objections in their initial comments and reply comments. The assigned Commissioner will issue a scoping memo making a final category determination. The final determination as to category is subject to appeal, as set forth in § 1701.5 and Rule 7.6(a).

5. Proposed Schedule

Comments and reply comments shall be filed and served on the schedule stated below. Comments shall state any objections to the preliminary scoping memo regarding the issues, category, need for hearing, or schedule. (Rule 6.2.) Comments shall also address any matter a party believes should be considered now for the purpose of scoping this rulemaking, and anything else necessary for the efficient, effective and equitable conduct of this proceeding.

In particular, each party should clearly state and describe the issues it recommends be considered by the Commission in this proceeding, the priority for taking up these issues, and the party's preferred schedule for addressing the issues over 18 months. Active parties should coordinate with other active parties to determine whether or not there is agreement on the issues, priorities, schedule and any other matters to be considered in this proceeding. If so, parties should file one joint comment statement reflecting consensus on issues, priorities, schedule and related matters, along with separate comments on other matters to the extent necessary.

Proposed Schedule

Notice of Intent to Claim Intervenor Compensation	Filed according to Section 12, herein.
Opening Comments on preliminary Scoping Memo	30 days from the issuance of the rulemaking
Reply Comments on Preliminary Scoping Memo	45 days from the issuance of the rulemaking

No further schedule is set here. Rather, the assigned Commissioner will issue a scoping memo after considering comments and reply comments on the rulemaking, including parties' views on issues, identified priorities, and recommendations on the schedule for addressing the substance of issues.

Consistent with § 1701.5, we anticipate this rulemaking will be resolved within 18 months from the issuance of the scoping memo. The assigned Commissioner or Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) may modify the schedules set forth in this rulemaking.

Many of the distribution-level interconnection issues subject to this rulemaking have been considered in various past and ongoing Commission proceedings, including R.08-08-009 and its successor proceeding, Rulemaking (R.) 11-05-005, R.10-05-004, R.08-06-024, Application (A.) 08-03-015, A.09-02-019, and A.08-07-017. Distribution-level interconnection issues are present in the context of various advice letter filings by utilities, such as SDG&E Advice Letter 2262-E, PG&E Advice Letter 3864-E, SCE Advice Letter 2593-E, and PG&E Advice Letter 3674-E.

Recognizing that these issues require timely action to ensure the success of the Commission's procurement programs, the Commission recently initiated a settlement effort to address matters related to Rule 21. These settlement efforts have been noticed in the Commission's Daily Calendar. In addition, notice of the commencement of this settlement effort was sent to the service lists of several ongoing Commission proceedings. A copy of this notice can be found at Attachment D. Also, the assigned ALJ issued a ruling on September 2, 2011 in R.11-05-005 providing notice to parties in that proceeding that the settlement efforts may address issues, including issues related to § 399.20(e), raised in that proceeding.

The Commission encourages the active participation of interested parties in these settlement efforts, which are intended to result in timely, non-discriminatory, cost-effective, and transparent interconnection rules for the distribution system – similar to the goals of this rulemaking. Potential parties are put on notice that to the extent a settlement is reached which addresses some or all of the issues in this rulemaking, the settlement may be considered by the Commission in this proceeding.

6. Coordination with Other State Agencies, Entities, and Local Agencies

The Commission invites comments and encourages participation from other entities with interests related to the scope of this proceeding. These entities include the California Independent System Operator Corporation, the California Energy Commission, publicly-owned utilities, local governments, and any other interested governmental organizations.

7. Respondents

Respondents for this proceeding shall be PG&E, SCE, and SDG&E. These entities are designated as parties this proceeding pursuant of Rule 1.4(d) of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure.

Notice of Rule 21 Settlement Efforts

From: Peterson, Rachel A.

Subject: Notification: Distribution System Interconnection Summit – Settlement Process

Please note that due to overlap in service lists, you may receive this email more than once.

Rule 21 Working Group Attendees and Parties to Service Lists R.10-05-004, R.11-05-005, R.08-08-009, R.08-06-024, and A.08-11-001:

The staff of the California Public Utilities Commission is pleased to inform you that the CPUC is sponsoring settlement discussions as the next step in the “Rule 21 Working Group” process. Our goal is to reach a global settlement on issues regarding distributed generation interconnection to the investor-owned utility distribution system in California.

This is an ambitious undertaking, and will require active participation, in a spirit of good faith, by all stakeholder parties with an interest in distribution-level interconnection issues. We also anticipate drawing upon the expertise of other governmental bodies as part of this stakeholder process.

Commission staff’s goal is to have the parties reach terms on a comprehensive, multi-jurisdictional interconnection tariff (and associated forms of agreement) by December 31, 2011, for presentation to the Commission for approval, and possible subsequent approval by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission

This settlement process will continue a stakeholder process begun in recent months under the auspices of the CPUC’s Rule 21 Working Group. The next stakeholder meeting will be held on Tuesday, August 23, 2011, from 1:00 – 4:00 p.m. Pacific Time in the CPUC’s Courtyard Room. This meeting was previously noticed in the CPUC Daily Calendar as the Rule 21 Working Group Business Practices Subcommittee. As previously announced, the focus of the August 23 discussion will be proposed revisions to Rule 21 business practices.

Commission staff also anticipate presenting to the Commission in September a proposed Order Instituting Rulemaking (OIR) on interconnection-related issues. Staff's goal is that the settlement discussions among the stakeholder parties will resolve issues identified in such an OIR.

Staff strongly encourage all stakeholders with an interest in interconnection issues to participate in the settlement discussions.

The settlement discussions will take place under CPUC and FERC settlement rules (CPUC Rules of Procedure 12.1 through 12.7, and FERC Rule 602 (18 CFR § 385.602)). These rules require individuals and entities with an interest in distribution-system interconnection to become "parties" to the settlement discussions.

Accordingly, persons or entities who wish to participate as parties to the settlement discussions must e-mail Rachel Peterson at RP1@cpuc.ca.gov. The e-mail should state:

Name
Organization (if any)
Mailing address
Phone number
E-mail address

The e-mail should also confirm your agreement to abide by the CPUC and FERC settlement rules, and in particular, the rules regarding confidentiality of settlement communications.

Once your e-mail is received by Ms. Peterson, your name and your organization (if any) will be added to a list of "Settlement Parties," to ensure that you will receive all future relevant communications regarding the settlement discussions.

Only one person per organization needs to formally agree to the settlement rules, and that will bind the entire organization. The exception is that where an organization represents a coalition of interested parties, each individual organization within the coalition should have a representative agree to the settlement rules.

Going forward, all settlement-related communications should be labeled “Confidential Settlement Communication – Do Not Disclose To Non-Settlement Participants”.

A party with a demonstrable interest in the settlement discussions may join at any time. Our goal is to make this an open and participatory stakeholder process.

Thank you in advance for your participation.
