PART 1 – Bill of Rights

The Commission declares that all consumers who interact with telecommunications providers must be afforded certain basic rights, and those rights shall be respected by the Commission-regulated providers with whom they do business:

Disclosure: Consumers have a right to receive clear and complete information about rates, terms and conditions for available products and services, and to be charged only according to the rates, terms and conditions they have agreed to.

Choice: Consumers have a right to select their services and vendors, and to have those choices respected by industry.

Privacy: Consumers have a right to personal privacy, to have protection from unauthorized use of their records and personal information, and to reject intrusive communications and technology.

Public Participation and Enforcement: Consumers have a right to participate in public policy proceedings, to be informed of their rights and what agencies enforce those rights, and to have effective recourse if their rights are violated.

Accurate Bills and Redress: Consumers have a right to accurate and understandable bills for products and services they authorize, and to fair, prompt and courteous redress for problems they encounter

Non-Discrimination: Every consumer has the right to be treated equally to all other similarly-situated consumers, free of prejudice or disadvantage.

Safety: Consumers have a right to safety and security of their persons and property.

PART 2 – Consumer Protection Rules

A. Applicability

These rules are applicable to all telecommunications carriers, including wireless carriers, unless expressly exempted in these rules or by Commission order. Each carrier shall observe these rules when dealing with the public and with any subscriber having, or applicant seeking, that carrier's service on twenty or fewer access lines. Acts of an agent on behalf of a carrier are considered acts of the carrier for purposes of these rules.

Where a carrier's tariffs provide a higher level of consumer protection than these rules, the higher level is to continue in force.

Except as specifically provided in these rules, the provisions of these rules may not be waived by contract. Any provision in a contract to provide service for an individual or small business subscriber that purports to waive any requirement set forth in these rules is contrary to public policy and is of no effect.

Compliance with these rules does not relieve carriers of other obligations they may have under their tariffs, other Commission general orders and decisions, FCC orders, and state and federal statutes.

The Commission intends to continue its policy of cooperating with law enforcement authorities to enforce consumer protection laws that prohibit misleading advertising and other unfair business practices. These rules do not preclude any civil action that may be available by law. The remedies the Commission may impose for violations of these rules are not intended to displace other remedies that may be imposed by the courts for violation of consumer protection laws.

B. Definitions

Affiliate

An entity that directly or indirectly owns or controls, is owned or controlled by, or is under common ownership or control with, another entity.

[Comment: See 47 C.F.R. § 64.2003 (a).]

Basic Service:

A minimum level of telecommunications service, as defined in D.96-10-066 and as may be changed by later decisions, which each carrier offering local exchange service is required to provide to all of its residential customers who request local exchange service. Also referred to as “basic exchange service.”

Carrier:

Any telecommunications provider subject to the Commission’s jurisdiction, including wireless carriers. “Carrier” includes all entities offering telephone services via telephone prepaid debit cards who are required to obtain operating authority or register with the Commission as specified in Public Utilities Code Section 885. Carriers are responsible for ensuring compliance with these rules by their agents and every person, firm or corporation representing the carrier or acting in the carrier’s behalf.

“LEC” refers to local exchange carriers; “ILEC” refers to incumbent local exchange carriers; “CLC” refers to competitive local exchange carriers; “IEC” refers to interexchange carriers; and “CMRS” refers to commercial mobile radio service carriers.

Clear and Conspicuous:

A statement is clear and conspicuous if it is readily understandable and presented in a size, color, contrast, location, and audibility, compared to the other material with which it is presented, that make it readily noticed and understood. If a statement modifies, explains, or clarifies other information with which it is presented, it must be presented in close proximity to the information it modifies and in a manner that makes it as readily noticed and understood as the information it modifies, explains, or clarifies.

Commission:

California Public Utilities Commission.

Competitive Service:

Any service the Commission has determined to be competitive, including all service offerings by NDIEC, CLC and CMRS providers, and Category II and Category III service offerings of the New Regulatory Framework LECs. All regulated telecommunications services that are not competitive services are non-competitive services.

Confidential Subscriber Information:

Non-public information specific to a subscriber, that is collected or developed by a carrier solely by virtue of the carrier-subscriber relationship. It includes: (1) information about a subscriber (such as social security number, credit and other personal financial information) collected directly from the subscriber or from another source, such as an organization that provides individual credit history information, (2) information derived by the carrier from the provision of service to a subscriber (such as the subscriber's calling patterns, type, destination, and amount of use, services subscribed to, and information contained in telephone bills), and (3) a customer's name, telephone number and address if a subscriber has requested that such information be withheld from a printed or electronic directory.

Confidential subscriber information does not include subscriber list information.

[Comment: This definition includes the type of personal information protected by 47 U.S.C. § 222 (see FCC's definition of Customer Proprietary Network Information (CPNI), 47 CFR § 64.2003(c) (revised as of October 1, 2000), and by Public Utilities Code § 2891).]

Consumer:

Any individual or small business which purchases or subscribes, or may potentially purchase or subscribe, to any product or service provided or billed by a carrier.

Consumer Affairs Branch (CAB):

The Commission office where California consumers may complain about a utility service or billing problem they have not been able to resolve with the utility.

Day:

A calendar day unless otherwise indicated.

Employee:

Includes, for purposes of these rules, employees, contract employees, contractor employees, agents, and carrier representatives of any and all types.

Non-communications-related:

As defined or used in Part 3, Rules Governing Billing for Non-Communications-Related Charges, of this general order.

Prepaid Calling Service

Any prepaid telecommunications service that allows consumers to originate calls through an access number and authorization code, whether manually or electronically dialed.

Prepaid Calling Card; Prepaid Telephone Debit Card

Any object containing an access number and authorization code that enables a consumer to use prepaid calling services. It does not include any object of that type used for promotional purposes.

Rates:

Any amounts requested to be paid by the user of a telecommunications service by whatever name, including charges, surcharges and fees, over which a carrier has discretionary authority. Unless otherwise indicated, "rates" includes any subscriber line charges (also known as the end user common line charge) authorized by the Federal Communications Commission.

Signature; Sign:

Signature may include an electronic signature as defined by the federal Electronic Signatures Act, 15 USCA §§ 7001 et. seq. (E-Sign Act), whenever it is applicable, or with the California Uniform Electronic Transactions Act, Civil Code § 1633.2(h), if applicable; provided, however, that an oral communication or a recording of an oral communication shall not constitute an electronic signature. To sign means to affix a signature.

Small Business:

A business that subscribes for not more than twenty telephone access lines from any single carrier, or an individual who subscribes directly for not more than twenty access lines from any single carrier for business use or combination business and personal use. For purposes of these rules, all entities other than individuals (e.g., government and quasi-governmental agencies, associations, etc.) meeting the twenty-access line limit are treated identically with small businesses.

Solicitation:

An offer, tentative or otherwise, by a carrier, or employee or agent of a carrier, to a consumer or consumers, or to the public generally, to provide a product or service for compensation. Proposed sales agreements and contracts are solicitations. Sales pitches of all types are solicitations, and carriers' interactions with existing or prospective customers to set up new services generally include multiple solicitations. Product- or service-specific advertising and other promotional materials fall within the definition of solicitation, whereas brand-name or image advertising generally would not.

Subscriber:

Any individual or small business that purchases or subscribes to any telecommunications service subject to Commission jurisdiction. Also referred to as a “customer.”

Subscriber list information:

Any information that both (a) identifies the listed names of subscribers of a carrier and such subscribers' telephone numbers, addresses, or primary advertising classifications (as such classifications are assigned at the time of the establishment of such service), or any combination of such listed names, numbers, addresses, or classifications; and (b) the carrier or an affiliate has published, caused to be published, or accepted for publication in any directory format.

Subscriber list information does not include any information that a subscriber has requested to be withheld from a printed or electronic directory.

Transfer:

A transfer of subscribers in which the transferee would replace the transferring utility for some or all of the latter's subscribers. A transfer of subscribers does not include a transfer at the corporate level that does not affect the underlying utility or subscribers.

[This definition is intended to be in consistent with the definition of “transfer of customers” in D.02-01-038.]

Type of Service

“Type of service” refers to three broad categories of telephone service: Local Exchange Service; Interexchange (long distance and local toll service); and CMRS.

User

A person who uses a telecommunications network or service.

Written; In Writing

Both “written” and “in-writing” describe materials intended to be read, either in hardcopy document form (including fax) or transmitted through electronic media. For purposes of these rules, whenever anything is required to be done “in writing” or in “written” form, the requirement must be satisfied in the form of a tangible, hardcopy document unless both parties to the communication have agreed to having the required information (which may be, e.g., a disclosure, a notice, a confirmation, etc.) provided through electronic media, and have satisfied all other applicable requirements of the federal E-Sign Act and/or the California Uniform Electronic Transactions Act.

[Comment: This definition of “written” and “in writing” will be interpreted consistent with the requirements of whenever the E-Sign Act is applicable, or with the California Uniform Electronic Transactions Act, Cal. Civil Code §§ 1633 et seq.]

(CUETA), subject to the limitations on what constitutes a “signature” that are set forth in these rules.

It is not possible, in the context of these rulemaking proceedings, to determine in advance which transactions will be governed by the federal E-Sign Act and which by the CUETA. Carriers are responsible for determining which law applies to their own transactions.]

C. Rules

Rule 1: Carrier Disclosure

(a) Every carrier offering tariffed services whose annual gross intrastate revenues, as defined in Public Utilities Code Section 435(c) and reported to the Commission for purposes of the Utilities Reimbursement Account exceed $10 million, shall publish, and shall thereafter keep up to date, its currently effective California tariffs on a World Wide Web site on the Internet.

(1) This requirement derives from D.01-07-026, which the Commission issued in anticipation of issuing a new General Order 96-B. Carriers subject to the Internet publishing requirement of that decision (or, when it is issued, General Order 96-B) must meet the associated requirements of that decision and general order as well (e.g., the site must be accessible and the tariffs downloadable at no charge; the site must be kept updated and indicate pending changes, etc.).

(2) Each carrier exceeding the revenue threshold of this Rule 1(a) in its last annual report to the Commission was required to meet the World Wide Web site publication requirement not later than January 1, 2002. Carriers first exceeding the revenue threshold in later years must meet the requirement not later than 180 days after the due date to file their first annual report to the Commission showing they have crossed the $10 million threshold.

(b) Every carrier that meets the $10 million revenue threshold of Rule 1(a) above, shall publish on a World Wide Web site on the Internet, and shall thereafter keep up to date, the rates, terms and conditions of each non-tariffed offering subject to the Commission's jurisdiction that it is currently providing or offering to provide to individual subscribers or small businesses in California.

(1) Service offerings for which there are current subscribers, but which are no longer available to others, must be clearly indicated as such.

(2) Descriptions of the service rates, terms and conditions published under this Rule 1(b) are considered solicitations and must meet the other requirements applicable to solicitations under these Consumer Protection Rules.

(3) Carriers subject to this Internet publishing requirement must meet the other Internet publishing requirements of D.01-07-026 (or, when it is issued, General Order 96-B) as well (e.g., the site must be accessible and the tariffs downloadable at no charge; the site must be kept updated and indicate pending changes, etc.).

(4) Each carrier exceeding the revenue threshold of this Rule 1(b) in its annual report to the Commission covering calendar year 2001 must meet the World Wide Web site publication requirement not later than January 1, 2003. Carriers first exceeding the revenue threshold in later years must meet the requirement not later than 180 days after the due date to file their first annual report to the Commission showing they have crossed the $10 million threshold.

(c) Every carrier shall provide the following upon request by any user or subscriber, including any former subscriber for whom, in the judgment of either the carrier or the subscriber, charges or credits are still pending:

(1) A description of each service for which charges appear(ed) on the subscriber's bill, and the rates, terms and conditions applicable to that service.

(2) A toll-free telephone number the subscriber may call to reach the carrier, and the carrier's post office address to which the subscriber may write, for inquiries, disputes or complaints related to the bill or to any other aspect of the subscriber's service.

(3) For any charges the carrier has placed on the bill on behalf of any other entity, but for which the carrier does not handle inquiries, disputes and complaints: the name of the other entity, a toll-free telephone number the subscriber may call, and a post office address to which the subscriber may write, for inquiries, disputes or complaints related to those charges.

[Comment: The rules in Part 3 take precedence over these Part 2 rules whenever there is a conflict between them and the charges are for non-communications related charges.]

(d) Every carrier shall provide the following upon request by any subscriber or other member of the public:

(1) The carrier's legal name, its utility registration number (Cal. PUC U-number), and all names (dba's) under which the carrier offers regulated telecommunications service in California.

(2) A description of any service offerings currently open to individual or small business subscribers in California, and the applicable rates, terms and conditions.

(3) The address and toll free telephone number of the Commission's Consumer Affairs Branch.

(4) An explanation of customers' privacy rights and how the carrier handles confidential subscriber information.

[Comment: The information provided in response to this Rule 1(d)(4) must meet the requirements of Rule 12(d), Required Notice of Privacy Rights. See Rule 12 for a specific explanation of disclosure requirements regarding privacy rights.

Under Rules 1(c) and 1(d) above:

(1) Carriers, and those entities to whom carriers refer requests, must arrange to accept all requests within a reasonable time and without excessive waiting intervals or rejections for lack of staffing or facilities. As a guideline, the telephone lines used to take subscriber inquiry, complaint, dispute and repair calls should give access to a carrier representative as quickly and reliably as lines the carrier provides for receiving incoming sales calls.

(2) Timeliness in providing responses is particularly important for responses to be useful. Absent extraordinary circumstances, carriers must be able to provide real-time responses with Rule 1(c)(2) Rule 1(c)(3), Rule 1(d)(3) information, and at least mailed-next-business-day responses for Rule 1(c)(1), Rule 1(d)(1), Rule 1(d)(2), and Rule 1(d)(4) information.

(3) Responses must be provided in writing if so requested, or by other method mutually acceptable to both the requestor and carrier.

(e) Carriers providing basic service shall include, at a minimum and in addition to subscriber listing information, the following emergency and customer disclosure information in the alphabetical telephone directories they provide to their customers:

(1) The procedures which the carrier will follow during emergencies.

(2) How telephone subscribers can best use the telephone network in an emergency situation.

(3) The emergency services available by dialing 911.

(4) Information regarding state and federal laws that protect the privacy rights of residential telephone subscribers with respect to telephone solicitations.

(5) Telephone number(s) to contact the carrier for any purpose related to a customer's account or service.

- (6) Instructions for reaching an operator and directory assistance.
 - (7) Basic service rates and information, including those for Universal Lifeline Telephone Service.
 - (8) The carrier's prefixes within the directory boundaries; where each is located; and for each prefix, a list of all other prefixes which can be reached as a local call.
 - (9) A map of California Local Access and Transport Areas (LATAs) and their locations.
 - (10) A list of area codes (North American Numbering Plan areas) and their locations.
 - (11) A list of international dialing codes, and instructions for making international calls.
 - (12) Accessibility information for non-English speaking and deaf and disabled customers.
 - (13) For carriers having tariffs or other customer disclosure information on the Internet, the carrier's Internet address for accessing that information.
 - (14) A Commission-provided summary of the consumer protection measures provided in this General Order, and the Commission's Internet address where this General Order is posted.
 - (15) Information explaining the availability and effect of Caller ID blocking options.
- (f) No basic service provider shall reduce the level of customer information included in an alphabetical telephone directory without first obtaining authorization from the Commission to do so.
- (g) Rates, terms and conditions included in service agreements or contracts or provided in required responses to public inquiries may not incorporate other information by reference. Formulae may be used to calculate rates or charges only where all necessary components are readily ascertainable by the consumer or subscriber.

Rule 2: Marketing Practices

- (a) All written solicitations by carriers or their agents provided to consumers or subscribers shall be unambiguous, legible and in the equivalent of 10-point type or larger.

[Comment: Members of the public must be able to read and understand the essential elements of advertisements and offers directed at them, through whatever medium. The intent of this rule would be violated, e.g., in a newspaper advertisement or in a brochure by too-fine print which purports to convey details that a reasonable consumer would believe important to the offer, or by a lengthy qualifier message flashed briefly on a television screen even if the message were otherwise legible.]

(b) Any agreement or contract the consumer or subscriber may execute shall be a separate document from any marketing materials used to promote telecommunications products or services.

[Comment: Any service agreements or contracts presented to consumers must be unencumbered by materials, such as advertising, which may distract or obscure. Only the elements of the transaction belong in binding agreements.]

(c) All terms of any agreement or contract shall be plainly stated in understandable language. Agreements, contracts, bills and notices shall be available in each language employed by the carrier in solicitations directed at consumers.

[Comment: Any service agreements or contracts presented to consumers must be as simple and understandable as possible to accommodate consumers with widely varying degrees of sophistication. Stating terms of an agreement or contract in language too complex or legalistic to be readily understood by most consumers would violate the intent of this rule. Similarly, consumers must have available to them service agreements and contracts in any language the carrier uses for advertising, telephone sales or order-taking representatives, and any other form of solicitation.]

(d) Solicitations, including advertising and other marketing materials, shall include clear, conspicuous and accurate disclosure of applicable rates, terms and conditions for each service offered in the solicitation. Solicitations shall be truthful and not misleading.

[Comment: See Definitions for "rates."]

(1) A misleading advertisement is one that contains a misrepresentation or omission that is likely to mislead consumers about facts important to a consumer's decision to buy or use a product or service, including but not limited to the following: Information pertaining to the central characteristics of the product or service; all information pertaining to the cost of the product or service, including, e.g., minimum per-call charges and monthly fees; and geographic restrictions, time-of-use restrictions, and other limitations on the availability of an advertised rate.

(2) Where a solicitation inadvertently presents an incorrect rate, term or condition, the carrier must be proactive and timely correct the error as soon as it is discovered to avoid a presumption of having been deceptive. The correction effort should be commensurate with the solicitation's distribution. E.g., in a mass-market advertisement, the carrier would be expected to distribute promptly and publicly a correction designed to reach essentially the same target audience as the original solicitation; in a more narrowly-focused solicitation, the correction could be more focused.

(e) No telephone corporation, or any person, firm, or corporation representing a telephone corporation, shall make any change or authorize a different telephone corporation to make any change in the provider of any telephone service for which competition has been authorized. of a telephone subscriber without the subscriber's authorization.

[Comment: All carriers must comply with applicable provisions of state and federal law, including Public Utilities Code Section 2889.5, when changing subscribers' service providers.]

(f) No carrier whose service has been cancelled at the subscriber's request shall re-establish service for that subscriber without a new subscriber authorization. Authorization may not be founded upon any term in an agreement for service that binds the subscriber to again take service from the carrier.

(g) Where a carrier has misrepresented its rates, terms or conditions for a competitive product or service, or presented those rates, terms or conditions of service in a manner likely to mislead consumers, the carrier must honor consumer requests to provide the product or service under the rates, terms and conditions that were offered to and accepted by the consumer.

Rule 3: Service Initiation

(a) Carriers may initiate service upon request (in any form) from a consumer or subscriber.

[Comment: Carriers must still comply with any applicable statutes or other legal requirements where they apply, e.g., the Section 2889.5 confirmation requirements when changing a competitive service from one provider to another.]

(b) Carriers offering basic service shall provide consumers initiating service, including those adding additional lines to existing accounts, with the following information whenever applicable:

(1) Availability, eligibility requirements and discounts associated with the Universal Lifeline and Deaf and Disabled Trust Programs.

(2) Availability and effect of freezing the pre-subscribed carrier assigned to the account.

(3) Availability and effect of restricting toll calling.

- (4) Availability and effect of deleting access to 900 and 976 pay-per-call telephone information services.
- (5) Availability and effect of blocking options for pay per use features that do not require dialing an access code to activate.
- (6) Availability and effect of blocking non-presubscribed carrier (e.g., third party) charges from being billed on the telephone bill.
- (7) Availability and effect of Caller ID blocking options.
- (8) Availability and rates of the least expensive service meeting the customer's needs.
- (9) Any other information necessary to enable consumers to make informed choices among services and providers.

[Comments:

(1) The Commission's policy is to ensure that consumers have access to information needed to make timely and informed choices about basic service and ULTS. See D.96-10-066, Appendix B.

(2) The Commission deems the disclosures specifically required by subsections (1) through (8) to be necessary to enable consumers to make informed choices about their service options when initiating service. See Public Utilities Code § 2896(a). Depending upon the services available and other circumstances, additional disclosures not specifically listed in this rule may be necessary to make informed choices. Subsection (9) provides that all such disclosures, whether or not specifically enumerated, are required pursuant to Section 2896(a) and these rules.]

(c) For services offered on a tarified basis, carriers shall send the subscriber a written confirmation of the order not later than seven days after it is accepted. The confirmation shall include all applicable rates, terms and conditions for each service ordered, and shall conform to the same requirements as set forth for solicitations in Rules 2.a. and 2.d. Confirmation shall be in the same language in which the carrier solicited or accepted the order.

(d) Non-tarified services may be provided only on a signed, written contract basis. The carrier shall send the subscriber a written, proposed contract not later than seven days after the order is accepted. The contract shall include all applicable rates, terms and conditions for each service ordered, and shall conform to the same requirements as set forth for service agreements, contracts and solicitations in Rules 2(a) through 2(d). Ambiguities in any contract will be construed against the carrier.

[Comment: For both Rules 3.c. and 3.d., rates, terms and conditions information shall be provided with sufficient specificity to enable subscribers to verify the accuracy of the charges on their bills.]

(e) Subscribers may cancel any request for tariffed service without penalty after the carrier sends the written confirmation described in Rule 3(c). Subscribers may terminate any contract for non-tariffed service without penalty within three business days after signing the written proposed contract called for in Rule 3(d). Subscribers shall have 30 days after signing to terminate without penalty any written contract for non-tariffed service that includes fees, charges or penalties for early termination or cancellation.

[Comment: Rule 3(e) is not to be interpreted as relieving the subscriber from payment for any actual use made of the service before canceling.]

(f) Any fees, charges or penalties for early termination or cancellation of any non-tariffed service shall be null and void unless the subscriber, in addition to signing the contract, separately signs or initials the contract in the immediate proximity of the notice of those fees, charges or penalties to indicate awareness of and agreement to them.

(g) Charges for pay per use features are not authorized unless the subscriber knowingly and affirmatively activates the service by dialing or some other affirmative means. Going from on-hook to off-hook (i.e., lifting the receiver), or remaining on the line, or failing to remain on-hook for a sufficient time, or any other ambiguous action, shall not in itself constitute authorization; an unambiguous, associated, affirmative action is required.

(h) For any service for which no record of affirmative subscriber authorization is available, all disputed charges are subject to a rebuttable presumption that the charges are unauthorized.

(i) A carrier may not deny service for failure to provide a social security number. Whenever a carrier requests a consumer's social security number, the carrier shall inform the consumer that providing it is optional and that failure to provide it is not cause for denying service.

(j) When a carrier denies an application for a telecommunications service subject to Commission jurisdiction, the carrier shall inform the applicant of the reasons within 10 days thereafter. The carrier's reasons shall be provided in writing unless the applicant agrees to accept a different form of written notice.

(k) When establishing an installation or repair appointment for which the subscriber must be present, the carrier shall offer the subscriber a four-hour period during which it will arrive to commence work. If the installation or repair is not commenced within the four-hour period, the carrier shall provide a $25 credit to the subscriber. This credit is independent of any remedies available to the subscriber under Civil Code §1722(c) or elsewhere.

Rule 4: Prepaid Calling Cards and Services

The following standards and requirements for consumer disclosure and services shall apply with respect to the advertising and sale of prepaid calling cards and prepaid calling services.

(a) Any advertisement of the price, rate, or unit value in connection with the sale of prepaid calling services shall include a disclosure of any geographic limitation to the advertised price, rate, or unit value, as well as a disclosure of any additional surcharges, call setup charges, or fees applicable to the advertised price, rate, or unit value.

(b) The following information shall be legibly printed on the card:

- (1) The name of the carrier.
- (2) A toll-free customer service number.
- (3) A toll-free network access number, if required to access service.
- (4) The authorization code, if required to access service.
- (5) The expiration date or policy, if applicable, except where Rule 4(f) applies.

(c) The carrier shall print legibly on the card or packaging the following information:

- (1) Any surcharges or fees, including monthly fees, per-call access fees, or surcharges for the first minute of use that may be applicable to the use of the prepaid calling card or prepaid calling services within the United States.
- (2) Whether there are additional or different prices, rates, or unit values applicable to international usage of the prepaid calling card or prepaid calling services.
- (3) The minimum charge per call, such as a three-minute minimum charge, if any.
- (4) The charge for calls that do not connect, if any.
- (5) The definition of the term "unit," if applicable.
- (6) The billing decrement.
- (7) The name of the carrier.
- (8) The recharge policy, if any.

- (9) The refund policy, if any.
- (10) The expiration policy, if any.
- (11) The 24-hour customer service toll-free telephone number required in Rule 4(d).

(d) Each carrier shall establish and maintain a toll-free customer service telephone number with a live operator to answer incoming calls 24-hours a day, seven days a week, through which consumers may lodge relevant complaints and through which the following information may be obtained by consumers:

- (1) All rates, surcharges, and fees.
- (2) The carrier's recharge, refund, and expiration policies.
- (3) The balance of use in the consumer's account, if applicable.

(e) Each carrier that issues prepaid calling cards or prepaid calling services shall provide a refund to any purchaser of a prepaid calling card or prepaid calling services if the network services associated with that card or services fail to operate in a commercially reasonable manner. The refund shall be in an amount not less than the value remaining on the card or in the form of a replacement card, and shall be provided to the consumer within 60 days from the date of receipt of notification from the consumer that the card has failed to operate in a commercially reasonable manner.

(f) Cards without a specific expiration date or policy printed on the card, and with a balance of service remaining, shall be considered active for a minimum of one year from the date of purchase, or if recharged, from the date of the last recharge.

(g) In the case of prepaid calling cards or services utilized at a payphone, the carrier may provide voice prompt notification of any applicable payphone surcharges, in lieu of providing notice of surcharges as required by Rule 4(a) and Rule 4(c)(1).

Rule 5: Deposits to Establish or Re-establish Service

(a) A carrier may require a deposit to establish or re-establish service if and only if an applicant for service is unable to demonstrate acceptable credit to the satisfaction of the carrier. Failure to provide a social security number shall not by itself be cause for requiring a deposit. A carrier may not require a deposit for services provided by another carrier, or refuse to accept a deposit in lieu of demonstrating satisfactory credit.

(b) A deposit to establish or re-establish basic service may not exceed twice the estimated or typical monthly bill for recurring and usage charges for basic service.

A carrier may require an additional deposit for services it provides other than basic service.

(c) Deposits shall earn not less than 5% simple annual interest on the monthly unused balance.

(d) Carriers shall refund deposit amounts associated with basic service, with interest, after one continuous year of timely payments for basic service, and not later than 30 days after basic service is discontinued. Carriers shall refund deposits associated with other services not later than 120 days after service is discontinued.

Rule 6: Billing

(a) Telephone bills shall be clearly organized and may only contain charges for products and services the purchase of which the subscriber has authorized. Charges for non-communications-related products and services may be included in a telephone bill, or in the same envelope as a telephone bill, only if they meet the requirements of Part 3, Rules Governing Billing for Non-communications-Related Charges, of this General Order.

(b) The name of the service provider associated with each charge must be clearly and conspicuously identified on the telephone bill. Certificated carriers shall use the name that appears on their Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity, or any fictitious business names that are properly registered pursuant to Business and Professions Code §17900 et seq. and registered with the Commission's Telecommunications Division. Abbreviations may be used so long as there is sufficient information to make it abundantly clear to the subscriber and Commission staff who the service provider is. For carriers not certificated by the Commission, the bill shall include the name under which the carrier is certificated by the FCC, if applicable, or the carrier's legal name as registered with the California Secretary of State.

(c) Where charges for two or more carriers appear on the same telephone bill, the charges must be separated by service provider.

(d) Telephone bills shall clearly and conspicuously identify any change in service provider, including identification of charges from any new service provider, and new recurring charges from current service providers. For purposes of this rule, "new service provider" means a service provider that did not bill a subscriber for that service during the service provider's previous billing cycle. This definition shall include only providers that have continuing relationships with the subscriber that will result in periodic charges on the subscriber's bill until the service is canceled.

(e) Charges contained on telephone bills must be accompanied by clear, concise, non-misleading, plain language descriptions of the services for which the charges were imposed. The descriptions must be sufficiently clear and specific for subscribers to determine whether the services for which they are being billed are those that they have requested and received, and that the charges shown for those services conform to their understanding of what the rates would be.

(f) Where a telephone bill contains both charges for basic residential or single line business service and other charges, the bill must distinguish between charges for which non-payment will result in disconnection of basic residential or single line business service, and charges for which non-payment will not result in such disconnection. The carrier must explain this distinction to the subscriber, and must clearly and conspicuously identify on the bill those charges for which nonpayment will not result in disconnection of basic residential or single line business service.

(g) All government-mandated taxes and fees required to be collected from subscribers shall be listed in a separate section of the telephone bill entitled "Taxes," and all such charges shall be separately itemized. This section of the bill shall not include any charges which the carrier has discretion to recover or not recover from subscribers. Discretionary charges currently include, e.g., the End User Common Line Charge (EUCL). Carriers shall not label or describe charges in any other section of the bill in a way that could mislead subscribers to believe those charges are other than elective for the carrier to collect.

(h) Telephone bills shall, at a minimum, contain the following information: (1) billing carrier's name, consistent with Rule 6(b) above; (2) period of service covered by the bill; (3) payment due date; (4) late payment charge (if applicable) and date after which it may be applied; (5) how to pay; and, (6) the carrier's toll free number for billing inquiries and disputes, along with an address where the subscriber may send a billing inquiry or complaint in writing.

(i) Where the subscriber has arranged with the carrier to access the telephone bill only by e-mail or the Internet rather than by regular mail, the provisions of this Rule 6 shall apply to the bill so presented. In that case, the carrier shall in addition provide e-mail or Web site addresses for billing inquiries and complaints.

(j) Carriers shall provide subscribers the option of blocking non-presubscribed carriers from placing charges on the subscriber's bill, except for services offered on a dial-around basis.

(k) In addition to the billing requirements above, each bill shall include the following statement:

If you have a billing or service question, or a complaint, you should contact us to try to resolve the matter. If we are not able to resolve it to your satisfaction, you may write or call:

[Comment: The contact information in this billing statement was current as of the date the general order was issued. CAB may by letter direct carriers to update or revise this contact information as necessary.]

Rule 7: Late-Payment Penalties, Backbilling, and Prorating

(a) The payment-due date on a subscriber's bill shall be not less than 22 days after the date the bill was mailed. A carrier shall credit payments effective the business day payments are received by the carrier or its agent. A bill becomes overdue and delinquent when the carrier or its agent does not receive payment on or before the payment-due date. Any authorized late-payment penalty may not exceed 1.5% per month on the balance overdue, and no late-payment penalty may be applied to overdue balances of less than $20. Late payment charges shall not apply to amounts in dispute that are resolved in the subscriber's favor.

(b) A bill shall not include any previously unbilled charge for intrastate service furnished prior to three months immediately preceding the date of the bill, four months in the case of wireless roaming charges on a system other than the subscriber's home system, and five months for collect, third-party, and calling card calls. In cases involving subscriber fraud this limitation on backbilling does not apply.

(c) Any complaint by a subscriber against a carrier for reparations must be filed with the Commission within three years from the time the cause of action accrues, and not after. If a claim for the asserted reparations has been presented in writing to the carrier within the three year period, the period for filing a complaint with the Commission shall be extended to include six months from the date notice in writing is given by the carrier to the claimant of the disallowance of the claim or any part of the claim specified in the notice. This rule shall not act to limit any right a subscriber may have to pursue a cause of action in any court which may have concurrent jurisdiction.

(d) Carriers shall prorate charges for basic service for partial months. A 30-day month may be used for prorating in lieu of calendar days.

(e) Bills must be based on the rates in effect at the time the service was used. Any delays or lags in billing must not result in a higher total charge than if the usage had been posted to the account in the same billing cycle in which the service was used.

Rule 8: Tariff Changes, Contract Changes, Transfers, Withdrawals and Notices

(a) A carrier shall notify all affected subscribers at least 25 days in advance of every proposed change in its subscribers' tariffed services that may result in higher rates or more restrictive terms or conditions. The subscriber notice shall describe the current and proposed rates, terms or conditions, as appropriate. Where required by D.02-01-038 (or General Order 96-B, when issued), the notice must also describe the reason for the proposed change to a rate or charge and state the impact of the change in dollar and percentage terms.

[Comment: This rule applies only to the carrier's rates (as defined), terms and conditions, and thus excludes taxes or surcharges for which the carrier has no discretion over the amount to charge the consumer.]

(b) No material change in any of the rates, terms or conditions of service specified in a written contract shall be enforceable unless the change is also set forth in writing and signed by the subscriber.

(c) A carrier shall notify each affected subscriber at least 30 days in advance whenever it requests approval for a transfer of subscribers, as defined. The notice shall follow the requirements where applicable of General Order 96-Series and/or §2889.3; describe the proposed transfer in straightforward terms; explain that the transfer is subject to Commission approval; identify the transferee; describe any changes in rates, charges, terms, or conditions of service; state that subscribers have the right to select another utility; and provide a toll-free customer service telephone number for responding to subscribers' questions. Subscriber notices of transfers requested by application shall also comply with the Rules of Practice and Procedure and any rulings of the presiding officer during the course of the formal Commission proceeding.

In subscriber notices of transfers, certificated carriers shall use the name that appears on their Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity, or any fictitious business names that are properly registered pursuant to Business and Professions Code §17900 et seq. and registered with the Commission's Telecommunications Division. Abbreviations may be used so long as there is sufficient information to make it abundantly clear to the subscriber and Commission staff who the service provider is.

(d) A carrier shall notify each affected subscriber at least 25 days in advance of every request to withdraw service. The notice must describe the proposed withdrawal and proposed effective date, state that subscribers have the right to choose another utility, and provide the carrier's toll-free customer service telephone number for responding to subscribers' questions. If the service to be withdrawn is basic service (as defined in these rules), the carrier must also: explain in the notice that the withdrawal is contingent on Commission approval; arrange with the default carrier(s) for continuity of service to affected subscribers who fail to choose another utility and describe in the notice those arrangements and the subscribers' right to receive basic service from the underlying carrier or carrier of last resort; and provide the default carrier's name and toll-free number.

(e) Notices required in these Rules shall be in writing by one or a combination of bill inserts, notices printed on bills, or separate notices sent by first class mail. In each case, an electronic notice may be substituted where the subscriber has agreed to receive notice in that manner. Notice by first class mail is complete when the document is deposited in the mail, and electronic notice is complete upon successful transmission. Every notice in whatever form shall be legible and the equivalent of 10-point type or larger.

Rule 9: Service Termination

(a) Carriers shall provide notices in writing to subscribers not less than 7 calendar days prior to terminating service for nonpayment of overdue bills. Each termination notice shall include all of the following:

- (1) Carrier's name, following the same designation guideline used in Rule 6(b) above.
- (2) The name and address of the subscriber, and the telephone number associated with the account which is delinquent.
- (3) Information sufficient for the subscriber to identify what service(s) are to be terminated, and the delinquent amount(s). If basic service is to be disconnected, the notice shall state the minimum amount that must be paid to retain basic service.
- (4) The date by which payment, or arrangement for payment, must be made to avoid termination.
- (5) A toll-free telephone number to reach a carrier service representative who can provide subscriber assistance.
- (6) The telephone number of the Commission's Consumer Affairs Branch where the subscriber may direct inquiries.

(b) Basic exchange service may not be disconnected on any day carrier service representatives are not available to assist subscribers.

(c) These notice and disconnection requirements do not apply where the subscriber's acts or omissions demonstrate an intention to defraud the carrier, or threaten the integrity or security of the carrier's operations or facilities.

(d) Basic service providers may not disconnect basic residential or single line business service, either flat rate and/or measured rate, as defined in D.96-10-066, Appendix B, page 5, for nonpayment of any charge other than non-recurring or recurring charges for that same service, including mandated surcharges and taxes calculated on that service. Mandated surcharges do not include charges that are elective for the carrier to recover. This restriction shall not prevent a basic service provider that is not a carrier of last resort from disconnecting basic service for nonpayment of long distance telecommunications services it provides directly or through an affiliate.

(e) Any partial payment made by a subscriber shall be applied first against the balance due on that subscriber's basic service unless the subscriber directs otherwise.

(f) Where a subscriber is offered and agrees to an alternative payment plan, the carrier must provide confirmation in writing of the terms if the subscriber so requests. An electronic written confirmation may be substituted where the subscriber has agreed to receive confirmation in that manner.

(g) Every carrier shall comply with the rules adopted by the Commission in D.91188 regarding service denial or disconnection for use of telecommunications service in violation of the law.

Rule 10: [Reserved]

Rule 11: Billing Disputes

(a) In the case of a billing dispute between a subscriber and a carrier, the carrier shall investigate the charge(s) the subscriber has informed the carrier are in question, and shall reach a determination and communicate it to the subscriber within 30 days.

(b) A carrier may not disconnect service to a subscriber within seven calendar days after the date the carrier notifies the subscriber in writing of the results of its investigation. In no event shall the carrier disconnect service prior to the due date shown on the bill.

(c) A carrier may not disconnect service to a subscriber for nonpayment if the subscriber has submitted a claim to CAB for informal review, deposited the disputed amount with the Commission, and either paid the undisputed amount to the carrier or deposited it with the Commission.

[Comment: The rules in Part 3 supersede Rules 11(a), 11(b), and 11(c) when the dispute involves billings for non-communications related charges.]

(d) Carriers shall not limit by contract the right of subscribers to bring complaints to the Commission, or the rights and remedies available to them by law in any California court or agency of competent jurisdiction, nor shall carriers by contract hold subscribers liable for carrier legal costs resulting from complaints before the Commission, the courts or another agency.

Rule 12: Privacy

The primary purpose of Rule 12 is to protect the privacy rights of individuals, as subscribers and as users of telecommunications networks. These rights, which are protected by Article I, Section 1 of the California Constitution, by the Public Utilities Code, particularly § 2891-2894.10, and by 47 U.S.C. § 222, include the right to engage in private communications over the telephone networks, and the right to exercise control over the collection, use, and disclosure of personally identifiable non-public subscriber information that carriers may collect or develop by virtue of the carrier-subscriber relationship (see definition of confidential subscriber information). A secondary purpose is to prevent the use of confidential subscriber information in ways that are anti-competitive.

[Comment: Cross references to other federal and state statutes that protect privacy interests of telephone consumers (e.g., the Telephone Consumer Protection Act) are provided for information purposes in the form of comments to the rules.]

(a) Accountability: Every carrier is responsible for the appropriate handling of confidential subscriber information under its control, consistent with applicable state and federal law and this rule. Every carrier shall designate an individual or individuals who are accountable for the carrier's compliance with this Rule 12. Carriers shall provide contact information for these designated individuals to Commission staff upon request.

(b) Identifying purpose(s): When collecting confidential subscriber information and obtaining customer consent to use it for a purpose other than the provision of, or billing for, service requested by the customer, carriers shall clearly identify the purpose(s) for which that information is collected, and shall note and retain that information in their records for each subscriber for as long as the carrier-subscriber relationship continues. If a carrier wishes to use confidential subscriber information for a purpose other than the provision of, or billing for service, (e.g., to market a different type of service or other products unrelated to the type of service the carrier already provides that subscriber), the carrier must first obtain the customer's consent, in writing.

(c) Informed consent: Carriers shall collect, use, and disclose to third parties confidential subscriber information only with the knowledge and prior affirmative written consent of the subscriber, and only for the purpose(s) agreed to by the subscriber. "Third party" includes any person not employed by the carrier and any other corporation, including an affiliate of the carrier.

[Comment: This informed consent requirement essentially requires that a subscriber give express permission to a carrier, or "opt-in", before the carrier may disclose confidential subscriber information to a third party.]

Exceptions to the affirmative written consent requirement:

(1) Information necessary to provide service: Carriers may disclose subscribers' confidential information to affiliates or to other third parties without the affirmative consent of the subscriber, to the extent necessary to initiate, render, bill and collect for the type(s) of service that the carrier is providing to that subscriber. Under this exception, carriers may also use a subscriber's confidential information to market to that subscriber additional products related to the type(s) of service the carrier is providing to that subscriber, without the subscriber's express consent, unless the subscriber has indicated that he or she does not wish to receive solicitations about additional products.

Whenever a carrier discloses confidential subscriber information to a third party under this exception, it must clearly identify the purpose of the disclosure and require the recipient of the confidential information not to use it for any other purpose, not to retain it any longer than necessary to accomplish that purpose, and to take appropriate precautions to prevent unauthorized use or disclosure. Carriers are responsible for monitoring the recipient's compliance with these requirements, and for taking appropriate corrective action promptly if a carrier learns that such a recipient has failed to safeguard that information as required by this Rule 12.

(2) Information exempt pursuant to § 2891(d): In addition to the exceptions set forth in the preceding subsection, pursuant to § 2891(d), the written consent requirement does not apply to the following categories of information: information provided by residential subscribers for inclusion in a subscriber directory; information customarily provided through directory assistance services; postal ZIP Code information; information provided under the supervision of the Commission to a collection agency by a telephone corporation exclusively for the collection of unpaid debts; information provided to an emergency service agency responding to a 911 telephone call or any other call communicating an imminent threat to life or property; information provided to a law enforcement agency in response to lawful process; information required by the Commission pursuant to its jurisdiction over telephone corporations; information transmitted between telephone corporations in order to provide telephone service between service areas; information required to be provided pursuant to rules and orders of the Commission or the FCC regarding the provision of services over the telephone lines by parties other than the telephone corporation; and the name and address of lifeline customers provided for the sole purpose of low-income ratepayer assistance outreach efforts.

[Comments:

(1) Written consent: The subscriber's written consent (and the required privacy rights notice (see Rule (4), below)) may be delivered electronically, provided the relevant requirements set forth in these rules, and in the federal E-Sign Act (15 U.S.C. § 7001 et seq.) and/or the California Uniform Electronic Transactions Act (Civil Code § 1633.1 et seq.), if applicable, are satisfied. See definitions of "written" and "in writing" in Part 2 of this General Order.

(2) "Information provided in response to lawful process": Pursuant to § 2894, the written consent requirement set forth in § 2891 does not apply to the disclosure of confidential subscriber information in compliance with a warrant, court order, or subpoena. The written consent requirement does apply, however, to a subpoena duces tecum for personal records maintained by a telephone corporation. Such a subpoena is ineffective unless it includes a consent to release signed by the customer whose records are requested. Code of Civil Procedure § 1985.3(c)(f).]

(d) Required notice of privacy rights: Whenever a carrier seeks to collect confidential subscriber information or to obtain a subscriber's consent to use or disclose that information, the carrier must first provide the subscriber, in a clear, accurate, and non-misleading manner, sufficient information to enable the subscriber to make an informed decision about whether to provide the information requested and/or whether to give consent to its use or disclosure. This information must be provided in writing, although this rule does not preclude carriers from communicating this information orally, in addition to the required written notice.

Written confirmations of orders for services offered on a tariffed basis, and contracts for non-tariffed services, shall include a privacy notice that includes a clear explanation of the purpose(s) for which the subscriber's confidential subscriber information may be used and to whom it may be disclosed. The notice must state that the subscriber has a right, and the carrier a duty, under federal and state law, to protect the confidentiality of subscriber information, including calling patterns, choice of services, credit history, and financial and demographic information as defined in California Public Utilities Code § 2891. The notice must also include a clear explanation of the subscriber's right to access the confidential subscriber information under the carrier's control, pursuant to these rules, and to request that the carrier update and correct that information. It must also inform the subscriber that the carrier must obtain the customer's affirmative written consent to use the information for any purpose other than to provide, or bill for, the service requested by the customers and that he or she may deny or withdraw such consent to allow the carrier to use or disclose the subscriber's confidential information at any time.

The notice must explain what steps the subscriber must take in order to exercise these rights.

Any statements, oral or written, made by carriers to subscribers about whether the withholding of consent to the collection, use or disclosure of confidential subscriber information will affect the provision of service to a subscriber must be truthful and not misleading.

Written notices of privacy rights must be clear and conspicuous. If accompanied by a solicitation for the subscriber's consent, the notice of rights must be conspicuously placed so that it is noticeable to a person reading the consent form.

If any portion of a notice is translated into another language, then all portions of the notice must be translated into that language. Translations of the notice required by this rule are subject to the same requirements as notices provided in English.

(e) Limiting collection: Carriers shall limit the collection of confidential subscriber information to that which is necessary for the purposes specified at the time of collection. Information shall be collected by fair lawful means.

(f) Limiting use, disclosure, and retention: Carriers may use and disclose confidential subscriber information only for the purposes for which it was collected, except with the consent of the subscriber or as expressly permitted by law. Confidential subscriber information shall be retained only for as long as necessary for the fulfillment of those purposes.

[Comment: On the destruction of customer records no longer to be retained, see Title 1.81 (§§ 1798.80-1798.82) of the Information Practices Act of 1977. Title 1.81, which is applicable to customer records of private businesses, was added by Stats. 2000, ch. 1039 (AB 2246, § 1).]

(g) Accuracy: Carriers shall make reasonable efforts to ensure that the confidential subscriber information under their control is as accurate and up-to-date as is necessary for the purposes for which it is to be used.

(h) Safeguards: In order to prevent unauthorized use, disclosure, or alteration of confidential subscriber information, carriers shall protect it by appropriate safeguards.

(i) Subscriber access: Upon request, carriers shall disclose to a subscriber what confidential information the carrier has about that subscriber and shall provide an opportunity to update the information and to challenge any inaccuracies. Carriers shall make reasonable efforts to correct inaccuracies brought to their attention. Upon request, carriers shall also disclose to the subscriber how that subscriber's confidential information has been used and to whom it has been disclosed. Provided a carrier attempts to comply with this provision in good faith, a carrier may refuse to process unreasonably repetitive requests from the same individual.

Upon a subscriber's request, carriers shall remove a subscriber's social security number from the subscriber's customer record.

(j) New services with privacy implications: Carriers shall present new and upgraded services subject to the Commission's jurisdiction with privacy implications for Commission review and approval before marketing such services to the public.

Services with privacy implications are those services which, when subscribed to or used, reveal or disseminate, or have the potential to reveal or disseminate, confidential subscriber information or a subscriber's name, address or telephone number.

(k) Blocking: Subscribers shall be given the opportunity to block on a per-call or per-line basis, at the subscriber's option, services subject to the Commission's jurisdiction that have a privacy implication.

(l) Right to be removed from sales solicitation lists: Carriers shall comply with subscriber requests to be removed from sales solicitation lists maintained by carriers and/or their agents and affiliates.

[Comment: The Telephone Consumer Protection Act, 47 U.S.C. § 227 (see also 47 C.F.R. 64.1200) requires telemarketers to comply with consumers' request to be removed from marketing lists and be placed on a "do not call" list, as does the recently enacted California "do not call" law, SB 771 (adding Business and Professions Code §§ 17590-17595).].

(m) Compliance with privacy laws: Carriers shall comply with Public Utilities Code §§ 761.5 (Centralized Credit Check Services), 2872-2875 (Automatic Dialing Devices), 2891-2894.10 (Customer Right of Privacy), 47 U.S.C. §222, and all other applicable state and federal statutes and regulations pertaining to the confidentiality of telephone communications and to the collection, use, disclosure and retention of confidential subscriber information as they may be amended from time to time.

(n) Compliance with Commission decisions: Carriers shall comply with D.97-01-042, which sets forth rules relating to subscriber directory listing and access to directory listing information, and with the rules set forth in D.92860 and D.93361, Appendix A, Nonpublished Service, and Appendix B, Release of Credit Information and Calling Records, as modified, which address the release of nonpublished information, calling records and credit information of all subscribers.

(o) Compliance with prior Commission decisions regarding subscriber directory listing: Carriers shall comply with D.92860, as modified by D.93361, Appendix A, Nonpublished Service, and Appendix B, Release of Credit Information and Calling Records, as modified, which address the release of nonpublished information, calling records and credit information of all subscribers; and with D.97-01-042, which sets forth rules relating to subscriber directory listing and access to directory listing information.

Rule 13: Consumer Affairs Branch Requests for Information

- (a) Every carrier shall designate one or more representatives to be available during regular business hours (Pacific time) to accept Consumer Affairs Branch inquiries and requests for information regarding informal complaints from subscribers. Every carrier shall provide to Consumer Affairs Branch and at all times keep current its list of representative names, telephone numbers and business addresses.
- (b) Every carrier shall provide all documents and information Consumer Affairs Branch may request in the performance of its informal complaint and inquiry handling responsibilities, including but not limited to subscriber-carrier service agreements and contracts, copies of bills, carrier solicitations, subscriber authorizations, correspondence between the carrier and subscriber, applicable third party verifications, and any other information or documentation. Carriers shall provide requested documents and information within ten business days from the date of request unless other arrangements satisfactory to Consumer Affairs Branch are made.
- (c) Nothing in these rules shall limit the lawful authority of the Commission or any part of its staff to obtain information or records in the possession of carriers when they determine it necessary or convenient in the exercise of their regulatory responsibilities to do so.

Rule 14: Employee Identification

- (a) Every carrier shall prepare and issue to every employee who, in the course of his or her employment, has occasion to enter the premises of subscribers of the carrier or applicants for service, an identification card in a distinctive format having a photograph of the employee. The carrier shall require every employee to present the card upon requesting entry into any building or structure on the premises of an applicant or subscriber.
- (b) Every carrier shall require its employees to identify themselves at the request of any applicant or subscriber during a telephone or in-person conversation, using a real name or other identifier sufficiently unique for the carrier and the applicant or subscriber to refer matters back to the same employee in the future when necessary.

Rule 15: Emergency 911 Service

All carriers providing end-user access to the public switched telephone network shall, to the extent permitted by existing technology or facilities, provide every telephone connection, and every wireless device technologically compatible with its system, with access to 911 emergency service regardless of whether an account has been established. No carrier shall terminate access to 911 emergency service for non-payment of any delinquent account or indebtedness owed to the carrier.

PART 3 — Rules Governing Billing for Non-communications-Related Charges

A. Scope and Purpose

The purpose of these rules is to protect consumers from unauthorized charges on their telephone bills, specifically, charges for non-communications-related products and services. Effective July 1, 2001, such charges are no longer barred by statute. These rules are intended to give consumers control over whether to use their telephone bills to pay for non-communications-related products and services; to ensure that consumers have sufficient information to make informed choices about this service and, if they use it, to verify charges on their bills; to provide for prompt and effective recourse if they find unauthorized charges or other billing errors related to non-communications charges on their telephone bills; and to protect the confidentiality of information they provide to telephone companies.

These rules apply to: (1) any telephone corporation, as defined in Public Utilities Code Section 234, operating in California, whether providing landline or wireless telephone service, that chooses to open its telephone billing service to non-communications-related products and services; (2) any billing agent that presents such charges to a California telephone corporation on behalf of another entity; and (3) any vendor of non-communications-related products or services that bills for those products or services on a California subscriber's telephone bill, whether it makes billing arrangements directly with the California billing telephone company or indirectly through billing agents. Business entities in all three categories must comply with the applicable rules in this Part. These rules apply to billing for residential telephone service, business telephone service, and combined or undifferentiated residential/business telephone service.

These rules are intended to be consistent with other consumer protection laws that are or may be applicable to billing for products and services unrelated to telephone service. These laws include state and federal laws governing debt collection activity and consumer credit. The Commission's rules governing non-communications-related charges on telephone bills are not intended to deprive consumers of other remedies available under such laws. While our objective in drafting these rules is to make them consistent with the Truth in Lending Act, in particular, to the extent these rules provide any greater protections than those provided by the Act, we believe they are consistent with and therefore not preempted by the Act.

B. Definitions

Agent

Any person, company, or entity, other than a billing telephone company:

- (1) that represents or acts on behalf of a billing telephone company, billing agent, or vendor as those terms are defined in these rules; or
- (2) that solicits, promotes, advertises, offers, or bills for, products or services that are billed for on a subscriber's telephone bill or included in the envelope containing any bill for telecommunications services; or
- (3) whose function is to bring about or accept performance of contractual obligations between a consumer and either a billing telephone company or a vendor whose charge for products or services is billed for on a subscriber's telephone bill or included in the envelope containing any bill for telecommunications services.

Basic Service

A minimum level of telecommunications service that each carrier offering local exchange service is required to provide to all of its residential subscribers who request local exchange service. Also referred to as "basic exchange service." (See D.96-10-066). Wireless service is not "basic service" unless the wireless service satisfies the definition of basic service provided in D.96-10-066 and subsequent Commission decisions.

Billing Agent

A company or other business entity that aggregates billing for telephone service providers and/or vendors and submits that billing to a telephone company for inclusion on subscribers' telephone bills, either directly or indirectly through one or more billing aggregators.

[Comment: Sections 2889.9 and 2890 use the term "billing agent." Billing agents are sometimes referred to as "billing aggregators." The FCC uses the term "clearinghouse" (see FCC Anti-Cramming Best Practices Guidelines).]

Billing Error

A charge made on a subscriber's telephone bill without proper authorization as required by statute and/or these rules (see definition of "unauthorized charge, below); a charge not identified as required by statute and/or these rules; a charge assessed on subscriber's telephone bill for products or services not accepted by the subscriber, or the subscriber's designee, or not delivered to or provided to the subscriber or the subscriber's designee as authorized; the billing telephone company's failure to mail or deliver a telephone bill to the subscriber's last known address if that address was received by the billing telephone company or the entity responsible for initiating the charge, in writing, at least 20 days before the end of the billing cycle for which the statement was required; a reflection on the subscriber's telephone bill of the billing telephone company's failure to credit properly a payment or other credit issued to the subscriber's account; a computational error or similar error of an accounting nature made by a telephone company or vendor; a reflection on a telephone bill of a charge inconsistent with the terms and conditions of the subscriber's service agreement (whether defined by tariff or by contract) or purchase agreement, whichever is applicable.

Billing Telephone Company
See Telephone Company

Clear and Conspicuous

A statement is clear and conspicuous if it is readily understandable and presented in a size, color, contrast, location, and audibility, compared to the other material with which it is presented, that make it readily noticed and understood. If a statement modifies, explains, or clarifies other information with which it is presented, it must be presented in close proximity to the information it modifies and in a manner that makes it as readily noticed and understood as the information it modifies, explains, or clarifies.

Commission

The California Public Utilities Commission.

Communications-related charges; Non-communications charges

Communications-related charges include, but are not limited to, charges for: services tariffed by telephone utilities; services permitting voice and data communications, including charges for installation of equipment and facilities; telecommunications equipment that is connected to a telecommunications network; wireless communications service; Internet access; video service; message service; information service, including pay-per-call service; and cable set top boxes. Any charge that is not communications-related, with the exception of taxes and mandatory charges for public purpose programs, is a non-communications charge.

[Comment: This list of communications-related charges is derived from Section 2890. The Commission recognizes that new communications-related products and services are being developed at a rapid pace; therefore, this list is not intended to be exclusive.]

Complaint (to a billing telephone company from a subscriber)

A communication, whether written or verbal, from a subscriber to the subscriber's billing telephone company disputing a charge on that subscriber's telephone bill.

A question about a charge is not necessarily a complaint; however, if the bill provides insufficient information to enable the subscriber to verify the charge, fails to identify clearly the source of the charge, includes incorrect information about the charge or the source of the charge, or in any way falls within the definition of a billing error, the question should be deemed a complaint.

Fraudulent Authorization

An authorization (written, verbal, or electronic) is fraudulent if it is inauthentic (not given by the subscriber) or was obtained from the subscriber based on false or misleading information.

Legal Name (of a business entity that is not a telephone company)

Name of company as registered with the California Secretary of State.

Signature

Signature includes an electronic signature as defined by the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act, Civil Code § 1633.2(h), provided, however, that an oral communication or a recording of an oral communication shall not constitute an electronic signature.

Solicitation

An offer, tentative or otherwise, by a telephone company or agent of a telephone company, or a vendor, to a consumer or consumers, or to the public generally, to provide a product or service for compensation. Proposed sales agreements and contracts are solicitations. Sales pitches of all types are solicitations, and telephone companies' interactions with existing or prospective subscribers to set up new services generally include multiple solicitations. Product- or service-specific advertising and other promotional materials fall within the definition of solicitation, whereas brand-name or image advertising generally would not.

Subscriber

Any individual or business that subscribes to any telecommunications service subject to Commission jurisdiction. For purposes of these Part 3 rules, "subscriber" also includes individuals who use the subscriber's telecommunications service with the permission of the subscriber of record.

Telephone Company; Billing Telephone Company

A telephone company is any telephone corporation (as defined in Public Utilities Code § 234) operating within California. This term includes resellers and wireless telephone service providers. A billing telephone company is a telephone company that also provides billing services to any third party, including its own affiliate, or that bills for non-communications-related products and services on its own behalf. Telephone companies are responsible for their agents' compliance with these rules and liable for their agents' violation of these rules.

Unauthorized charge

In the context of billing for non-communications-related products or services on a subscriber's telephone bill, an unauthorized charge is a non-communications-related charge included on a subscriber's bill when the subscriber (1) has not authorized the billing telephone company, directly, to include non-communications-related charges on that subscriber's bill; or (2) has not authorized that particular charge. A charge placed on the subscriber's bill by a person who does not have actual, implied, or apparent authority to place such a charge, and which confers no benefit upon the subscriber, is an unauthorized charge.

Vendor

Any person, company or entity that offers or provides non-communications-related products or services billed on a subscriber's telephone bill. Vendors are responsible for their agents' compliance with Section 2890 and these rules.

[Comments:

(1) As used in these rules, "vendor" refers to the entity that makes the sale to a California subscriber, attempts to make the sale, or sets in motion the process of placing a charge on a subscriber's bill. In the Commission's view, "entity responsible for generating a charge" as that term is used in Section 2890, i.e., is synonymous. Some telephone companies have argued, however, that the "entity responsible for generating a charge" could include billing agents. To eliminate this ambiguity, we will use the term "vendor" to refer to entities that set in motion the process of placing a charge on a subscriber's bill, not to billing agents acting as an intermediary between seller and billing telephone company. In the event that a billing entity is responsible for setting the process in motion, i.e., is responsible for generating a charge on behalf of no one but itself, it would be subject to the Commission's jurisdiction as provided by Section 2890, as are vendors. Note that if a billing telephone company sells non-communications-related products and services directly to subscribers, it is a vendor as well.

(2) Vendors are not necessarily public utilities, nor are they necessarily California corporations, though they sell or offer to sell to California subscribers.]

Written; In Writing

Both "written" and "in-writing" describe materials intended to be read, either in hardcopy document form (including fax) or transmitted through electronic media. For purposes of these rules, whenever anything is required to be done "in writing" or in "written" form, the requirement must be satisfied in the form of a tangible, hardcopy document unless both parties to the communication have agreed to having the required information (which may be, e.g., a disclosure, a notice, a confirmation, etc.) provided through electronic media, and have satisfied all other applicable requirements of the federal E-Sign Act and/or the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act.

[Comment: This definition of "written" and "in writing" will be interpreted consistent with the requirements of the Electronic Signatures Act, 15 USCA §§ 7001 et. seq. (E-Sign Act), whenever it is applicable, or with Uniform Electronic Transactions

Act, Cal. Civil Code §§ 1633 et seq. (CUETA), subject to the limitations on what constitutes a “signature” that are set forth in these rules.

It is not possible, in the context of these rulemaking proceedings, to determine in advance which transactions will be governed by the federal E-Sign Act and which by the CUETA. Carriers are responsible for determining which law applies to their own transactions.]

C. Authorization Requirements

Effective July 1, 2001, non-communications-related charges may be included in a subscriber’s telephone bill, provided both of the following conditions pertaining to authorization have been satisfied: (1) the subscriber has affirmatively “opted in”, i.e., provided a general one-time authorization directly to the billing telephone company to open up the subscriber’s account to non-communications charges; AND (2) the subscriber has authorized the specific charge placed on the account. Each of these authorization requirements is described in more detail below.

(1) General (“opt-in”) authorization: The billing telephone company may place non-communications charges on a subscriber’s account only if it has first obtained express written authorization, directly from the subscriber, to include non-communications charges on that subscriber’s telephone bill, and the subscriber has not revoked that authorization. The billing telephone company must use a PIN number or other equally reliable security procedure designed to prevent anyone other than the subscriber and individuals authorized by the subscriber from placing charges on the subscriber’s account. Opt-in authorization information or confirmation, including any assigned or confirmed PIN, must be sent to the subscriber’s billing address even if the authorization lists a different address for delivery of products or services.

[Comment: Because billing for non-communications-related charges on telephone bills was previously prohibited by law, many subscribers initially will be unaware that they are now exposed to a new risk of having unauthorized charges for non-communications-related products or services improperly placed in their telephone bills. The Legislature has acknowledged that additional safeguards are necessary to protect consumers from the risk of being “crammed” with charges that are unrelated to telephone service or other communications services. (See Stats 2000, ch 931 (AB 994).) Consumers should not be exposed to this risk unknowingly.

Accordingly, these interim rules require billing telephone companies to obtain express permission from a subscriber to include non-communications-related charges before any non-communications-related charges may be included on that subscriber’s bill.]

(a) In obtaining authorization to bill for non-communications charges, billing telephone companies must disclose in a clear and conspicuous manner all material terms and conditions related to this service. Material terms and conditions include any applicable fees and charges, including late payment penalties and interest; any available options for limiting authorization (for example, to a dollar amount per month); how a subscriber may dispute a charge; the fact that the billing telephone company may not terminate basic local service, file an adverse credit report, or charge interest or finance charges on disputed amounts; how a subscriber may revoke authorization; and how a subscriber's confidential information is protected.

[Comments:

(1) Billing telephone companies may create forms for obtaining subscribers' authorization, although written authorization may be provided in other ways.

*(2) Regardless of the manner in which written permission is given, billing telephone companies must provide sufficient information to enable consumers to make informed decisions about whether to allow non-communications charges on their telephone bills, and must abide by those decisions. (See § 2896.) They must disclose all material terms and conditions, and must not mislead subscribers in an effort to convince them to authorize the use of their telephone bill for non-communications-related charges. (See Id. and Business and Professions Code § 17500.) Companies that do so will be subject to sanctions by the Commission for violating the Public Utilities Code and these rules. Such practices may also lead to court-ordered penalties pursuant to California's Unfair Competition Law (Business and Professions Code §§ 17200 and 17500).*

(3) If a subscriber disputes a charge on the ground that the subscriber had not authorized the billing telephone company to include non-communication-related charges on the subscriber's bill, the billing telephone company bears the burden of proving that the subscriber did in fact provide such authorization.

(4) See limitation on late payment penalties in Part 2, Rule 7(a)]

(2) Point-of-sale authorization: Only charges that the subscriber has specifically authorized may be included on the subscriber's bill. Authorization must be provided by use of PIN number or other equally reliable security procedure.

[Comments:

(1) The primary goal of Sections 2889.9 and 2890 and of these rules is to ensure that only authorized charges are billed to subscribers, i.e., to deter "cramming." Billing telephone companies, billing agents, and vendors all are responsible for ensuring that only authorized charges are billed.

(2) Requiring PIN number authorization is one way to ensure that a purchase is properly authorized at the point of sale. As commenters pointed out in response to the first draft of these rules, however, better methods of ensuring proper authorization may exist or may be developed in the future. Accordingly, these rules allow flexibility in the means used to ensure authorization. Whatever the security procedure used, it should be at least as reliable as a PIN number, however. In the event a subscriber claims that a charge was unauthorized, the billing telephone company may not require the subscriber to pay the charge until the billing telephone company has obtained proof of proper authorization from the vendor or from the billing agent that submitted the charge for billing.

(3) This type of authorization will be referred to as “point-of sale authorization” to distinguish it from general authorization to include non-communications charges on a subscriber’s telephone bill (see Rule C(1)).]

(3) Subscribers may not be held liable for unauthorized charges. Subscribers must make a reasonable, good-faith effort to notify the billing telephone company promptly when the subscriber becomes aware of a probability of unauthorized use of the subscriber’s account. If the billing telephone company is unable to verify authorization, a charge is deemed unauthorized.

[Comment: Section 2890 provides that a telephone bill “may only contain charges for products or services, the purchase of which the subscriber has authorized.” This provision mandates a “zero-liability” rule for unauthorized charges.]

D. Revocation of Opt-in Authorization

(1) By subscriber: Subscribers may revoke authorization to allow non-communications charges on their bills at any time without charge. They may do so by notifying their billing telephone company, by telephone, in writing, or via the Internet, that they no longer wish to allow non-communications charges on their telephone bill. The billing telephone company must confirm the revocation in writing within 10 business days. This written confirmation shall indicate the date and time the subscriber notified the billing telephone company that authorization was revoked. Billing telephone companies must allow subscribers to revoke authorization by telephone 7 days a week, 24 hours a day. The right to revoke authorization to allow charges includes charges from standing authorizations previously made by the subscriber, such as charges for monthly dues or subscription service. This right is in addition to any other right that the subscriber may have to cancel the transaction that gave rise to the billing charge.

[Comment: As with credit cards, the consumer must be able to revoke authorization at any time to protect the subscriber in the event of attempted fraudulent use of the subscriber’s account. As subscribers cannot be held liable for unauthorized charges, this provision protects the billing telephone company as well.]

(2) By billing telephone company: A billing telephone company may suspend a subscriber’s authorization to bill for non-communications charges without prior notice if the company has reason to suspect fraudulent or unauthorized use of the subscriber’s account. The billing telephone company shall give prompt notice to the subscriber of such action. In all other cases, a billing telephone company must provide reasonable notice before suspending or revoking the subscriber's authorization. Billing telephone companies must inform subscribers of their revocation policies when soliciting subscribers' authorization and when responding to subscribers' requests for information about the billing service.

(3) Any agreement by a subscriber not to revoke an authorization is contrary to public policy and of no effect.

E. Billing Telephone Companies' Obligations to Screen and Monitor Entities for Whom They Bill

(1) Billing telephone companies must take reasonable precautions to screen vendors and billing agents before agreeing to provide billing services for them, in order to screen out unreliable or untrustworthy business entities.

(2) Before providing billing services to any vendor or billing agent, billing telephone companies must require and obtain from the vendor or billing agent the following information:

(a) If the company is a corporation or other type of business entity required to file with the State of California (Secretary of State or other state agency) as a domestic or foreign corporation, its legal name as registered with the State of California, and if doing business under a different name in California, its fictitious name as registered in each county in California in which it is doing business under that fictitious name.

(b) If the company is not a corporation or other type of business entity required to register with the State of California (Secretary of State or other state agency), but is doing business under a fictitious name, its fictitious name as registered in each county in California in which it is doing business under the fictitious name. Billing telephone companies must provide this information to the Commission and the California Attorney General upon request.

(3) Contracts to provide billing services for vendors and billing agents must provide that the billing telephone company will require proof of authorization for all charges disputed by subscribers, including but not limited to the nature, time, place and fact of the authorization; the nature, qualities and price of the product or service; and other charges of any and every kind, such as taxes, charges for other products and services, shipping expenses, interest, and penalties; and the legal basis for any such charge, and that without such proof, the subscriber will be credited for the charge and the corresponding amount withheld from the vendor or billing agent. Billing telephone companies may impose fees on these vendors and billing agents for the cost of investigating and resolving subscriber complaints.

(4) Billing telephone companies must monitor the performance of the vendors and billing agents for whom they provide billing services, promptly investigate subscribers' complaints, whether written or verbal, of unauthorized charges and other billing errors, and promptly suspend billing on behalf of a vendor or billing agent whose charges are generating a significant percentage of complaints (over five percent in two out of three consecutive months), or if the billing company has any other reason to believe unauthorized billings are being presented to it. A billing telephone company may resume billing for a vendor or billing agent after investigating the alleged billing errors, if it has determined that the problem(s) underlying the errors have been resolved.

[Comment: Regarding what constitutes a “significant percentage” of complaints, the Federal Trade Commission has defined “excessive consumer dispute chargebacks” in the credit card context as chargebacks that exceed three percent of all credit card transactions for any single company for two out of three consecutive months. See In re Citicorp Credit Services, Inc. (1993), FTC No. C-3413, 116 F.T.C. 87, 1993 Lexis 19 (holding that failure to investigate excessive chargebacks and terminate billing when excessive chargebacks occur constitutes an unfair business practice in violation of the Federal Trade Commission Act.)]

(5) Billing telephone companies must keep records of all subscriber complaints, both written and verbal, of unauthorized non-communications charges and other billing errors related to those charges for at least four years, and be able to categorize those complaints by vendor and by billing agent. Billing telephone companies will make this complaint information available to Commission staff or the California Attorney General upon request.

[Comment: As a further deterrent to cramming, billing telephone companies are encouraged to consider including escalating fee provisions in their contracts with billing agents and vendors, so that those vendors whose charges generate a large number of complaints quickly suffer financial consequences. The purpose of such provisions is to make cramming unprofitable for vendors and billing agents, thereby eliminating the incentive to engage in the practice and reducing the harm to consumers, as well as the number of complaints addressed to billing telephone companies and the Commission.]

(6) The Rosenthal Fair Debt Collection Practices Act, Sections 1788-1788.17 of the California Civil Code, applies to the billing and collection activity of telephone corporations subject to these rules. Insofar as these rules require action inconsistent with an explicit requirement of that Act, that Act shall apply.

F. No Disconnection of Basic Telephone Service for Nonpayment of Non-communications Charges

Billing telephone companies that provide basic local exchange service may not disconnect or suspend a subscriber's basic service for failure to pay any non-communications charge on the subscriber's telephone bill. Billing telephone companies must give subscribers notice of this rule when requesting initial authorization and on every bill that contains non-communication-related charges.

[Comment: See definition of basic service and § 779.2].

(1) When discussing non-payment of charges with subscribers, orally or in writing, billing telephone companies must inform them of this rule in a clear and conspicuous manner.

(2) Billing telephone companies and their agents, as well as billing agents, vendors, and their agents, including assignees of accounts receivables, may not tell subscribers or lead them to believe that subscribers' basic local exchange service may be disconnected for failure to pay for non-communications charges.

(3) Unless otherwise directed by the subscriber at the time the payment is made, billing telephone companies shall credit partial payment amounts in the following order: (1) local exchange telephone service and associated mandatory fees and taxes; (2) other communications-related charges; (3) other charges.

G. Complaint Procedures

(1) The billing telephone company is responsible for ensuring that subscriber complaints about non-communication charges on its bills are processed as required by these rules. Subscriber questions and complaints concerning non-communications-related charges should be addressed to the billing telephone company, or to its agent, as designated on the bill. The telephone bill must include a prominently displayed toll-free customer service number for this purpose. The toll-free number must be adequately staffed by personnel with sufficient training and authority to answer questions, investigate complaints, and adjust bills in favor of subscribers when appropriate.

Telephone companies are required to provide adequate customer service as a telecommunications provider (see the Telecommunications Customer Service Act of 1993, codified at Sections 2895-2897). They must ensure that the additional customer service required of them in connection with non-communications charges does not negatively impact telephone customer service.

(2) Billing telephone companies or their agents shall promptly investigate subscribers' complaints of billing errors. Within 30 days of receiving a complaint of a billing error unrelated to the subscriber's telephone service, the billing telephone company must either credit the disputed charge to the customer or acknowledge, in writing, receipt of the complaint, and must verify the validity of the charge. Billing telephone companies must resolve such complaints within 60 days.

[Comment: These rules are meant to be consistent both with Section 2890 and with federal regulations governing credit card transactions, which may be applicable as well in some cases. See 15 U.S.C. 1666(a)(3)(A),(B) and 12 C.F.R. 226.13(c)(1),(2).]

(3) While the investigation is pending, the subscriber shall not be required to pay the disputed charge, no late charges or penalties may be applied, the charge may not be sent to collection, and no adverse credit report may be made based on non-payment of that charge.

(4) The billing telephone company or, if the vendor is handling the complaint, the vendor, will notify the subscriber in writing of the result of its investigation. If the vendor has failed to provide proof of authorization within the time allowed, the billing telephone company will credit the charge to the subscriber. If the billing telephone company has obtained proof of authorization within the time allowed, it may require payment of the charge within 30 days of sending written notice to the subscriber. The notice shall state the reason for the creditor's belief that the billing error alleged by the subscriber is incorrect and include the amount due and the date of payment. If, however, the subscriber alleges that the authorization provided was fraudulent, or the billing telephone company has reason to believe it was fraudulent based on other information, the billing telephone company has an obligation to investigate further. An authorization is fraudulent if it is inauthentic (not given by the subscriber) or obtained from the subscriber based on false or misleading information. Consumers must be given copies of evidence to support the billing telephone companies' allegations that charges are authorized if the consumer so requests. Consumers who request such evidence will be given a time period equal to one billing cycle or ten days, whichever is less, to determine if the evidence is authentic and to offer other evidence, by oral statements or otherwise, that would show the purchase was not authorized by the subscriber.

(5) If the subscriber alleges that a non-communications charge is improper because the subscriber had not "opted in," i.e., consented to the inclusion of non-communications charges on the telephone bill (see Rule C(1)), or had revoked such authorization, the billing telephone company bears the burden of proving that it had a valid general authorization from the subscriber at the time the particular charge was authorized.

(6) A subscriber dissatisfied with the billing telephone company's resolution of the complaint may file an informal complaint with the Commission's Consumer Affairs Branch (CAB). Consumers who believe they have been crammed may also notify other agencies such as the District Attorney's Office in their county or the Attorney General's Office.

(7) Pending CAB's investigation, the subscriber's obligation to pay the disputed charge is stayed, provided that the subscriber's complaint was filed with CAB within 30 days from the date the billing telephone company notified the subscriber of its decision in writing.

(8) If CAB obtains proof of proper authorization, CAB will so inform the subscriber and the billing telephone company in writing. Within 30 days of such a notice, the subscriber must pay the disputed charge if it has not been paid. If the subscriber believes CAB's conclusion was in error, the subscriber may file a formal complaint with the Commission. The filing of a formal complaint does not, however, stay the subscriber's obligation to pay the disputed charge.

(9) If CAB is unable to obtain proof of proper authorization, it will ask the billing telephone company, in writing, to remove the charge. If the billing telephone company fails to remove the charge, the subscriber may file a formal complaint with the Commission. CAB may refer the case to the Commission's Consumer Services Division or to other law enforcement agencies for further investigation.

(10) A billing telephone company shall credit a payment to the subscriber's account as of the date of receipt, except when a delay in crediting does not result in a finance or other charge. If a billing telephone company fails to credit payment as required in this rule, in time to avoid the imposition of finance or other charges, the billing telephone company shall adjust the subscriber's account so that the charges imposed are credited to the subscriber's account during the next billing cycle.

(11) When a positive balance in excess of $1 is credited on a telecommunications account (through transmittal of funds to the billing telephone company in excess of the total balance due on an account, through rebates of unearned charges, or through amounts otherwise owed to or held for the benefit of a subscriber) the billing telephone company shall: Credit the amount of the credit balance to the subscriber's account; refund any part of the remaining credit balance within seven business days from receipt of a written request from the subscriber; and make a good faith effort to refund to the subscriber by cash, check, or money order, or credit to a deposit account of the subscriber, any part of the credit balance remaining in the account for more than six months. No further action is required if the subscriber's current location is not known to the billing telephone company and cannot be traced through the subscriber's last known address or telephone number.

(12) When an entity other than the billing telephone company accepts the return of property or forgives a debt for services, and agrees to credit the subscriber's telephone bill, the entity shall, within seven business days from accepting the return or forgiving the debt, transmit a credit statement to the billing telephone company through normal channels for billing statements. The billing telephone company shall, within 3 business days from receipt of a credit statement, credit the subscriber's account with the amount of the refund.

(13) Nothing in these rules precludes a subscriber that has been the victim of cramming, misleading advertising, or other unfair business practice from pursuing other legal remedies and obtaining relief that the subscriber may be entitled to under state or federal law.

H. Bill Format

(1) Telephone bills containing non-communications charges must be clearly organized, readily understandable, and provide sufficient information to enable subscribers to verify whether the charges they were billed for are the charges they authorized. They must satisfy all of the applicable requirements set forth in Sections 2889.9 and 2890.

(2) Non-communications charges must be placed in one or more separate sections of the telephone bill clearly labeled "Non-communications-related charges," separate from the charges for telecommunications services. The name of the vendor and billing agent associated with each charge must be clearly identified.

(a) Upon request, billing telephone companies shall provide Commission staff and the Attorney General with information about the types of non-communications-related products and services they bill, and the names of the vendors and billing agents on whose behalf they bill for these charges. Billing telephone companies shall require the vendors on whose behalf they bill, either directly or indirectly through billing agents, to provide the necessary information.

(3) Each bill must provide a clear, concise, non-misleading description of the product or service for which a charge has been imposed. The description of the product or service must be sufficiently clear and specific to enable subscribers to determine whether the products or services for which they are being billed are the products or services that they have requested and received.

(4) If the telephone bill includes charges for local exchange service, the section of the bill containing non-communications charges must include a notice that states:

"The telephone company is not allowed to disconnect your basic local service for failure to pay this portion of your bill. It may, however, take steps other than disconnection, as permitted by law, to collect legitimate charges."

I. Confidential Subscriber Information

Billing telephone companies may not release confidential subscriber information, credit or financial information, or any other confidential information about a subscriber, including information about a subscriber's spending patterns, to their affiliates or to other third parties, without the subscriber's informed, written consent, with the following exceptions:

Confidential information may be released: (1) to affiliates of the billing telephone company, or to others, to the extent necessary to provide and bill for telecommunication services; (2) to a law enforcement agency or other public agency for the purpose of responding to an emergency (“911”); (3) to law enforcement personnel in possession of a valid search warrant for the information sought; (4) if required to turn over such information by a court order; or (5) if otherwise required by law. In addition, information about unpaid charges may be released to a collection agency for the purpose of collecting a debt, subject to the requirements of Rule G (Complaint procedures) and all applicable laws.

[Comment: See §§ 2891- 2891.1, and 47 U.S.C. § 222.]

J. Penalties

The Commission may impose fines and other penalties on billing telephone companies, billing agents, and vendors that fail to comply with these rules. Nothing in these rules, however, precludes district attorneys, the Attorney General, or other law enforcement agencies from obtaining injunctive relief, civil penalties, and other relief permitted by law against a billing telephone company, billing agent, or vendor that engages in business practices that violate these rules and/or the provisions of state law. The Commission will make relevant complaint data and investigation reports available to the Attorney General and to district attorneys who are investigating possible consumer fraud.

[Comments:

(1) On the Commission's authority to impose penalties on billing agents and vendors, see §§ 2889.9- 2890.

(2) Government Code § 26509 requires the Commission to give district attorneys access to complaints against, and the Commission's investigation of, a person being investigated by a district attorney regarding possible consumer fraud.]

PART 4 — Rules Governing Slamming Complaints

A. Purpose and Scope of Rules

The purpose of these rules is to establish carriers' and subscribers' rights and responsibilities, and the procedures both must follow, for addressing slamming complaints that involve California's regulated telecommunications carriers. Slamming is the unauthorized change of a subscriber's presubscribed carrier. These California-specific rules are designed to supplement and work in conjunction with corresponding rules issued by the Federal Communications Commission.

The California Public Utilities Commission is the primary adjudicator of both intrastate and interstate slamming complaints in California. A subscriber may request that the FCC rather than the Commission handle an interstate slamming complaint, in which case the FCC would apply its rules, and these rules would govern any related intrastate complaint. Where these rules differ from the FCC's slamming rules, the differences are in recognition of California-specific issues and are consistent with the FCC's mandate to the states.

Where the alleged slam is of a subscriber's local exchange carrier, Sections A through D, and H apply. Where the alleged slam is of a subscriber's intraLATA, interLATA or interstate toll carrier, all sections except D apply.

These rules promote the furnishing of adequate and satisfactory local, intrastate toll, and interstate and intrastate long distance service to the public. The liability standards and penalties they set forth are established to promote compliance.

These rules take precedence over any conflicting tariff provisions on file at the Commission. The remedies provided by these rules are in addition to any others available by law. Prosecution, whether civil or criminal, by any local or state law enforcement agency to enforce any consumer protection or privacy law does not interfere with any Commission policy, order or decision, or the performance of any duty of the Commission, related to the enactment or enforcement of these rules.

B. Definitions

Commission

California Public Utilities Commission, unless otherwise noted.

FCC

Federal Communications Commission

LATA

Local Access and Transport Area

Submitting Carrier

Any telecommunications carrier that requests on the behalf of a subscriber that the subscriber's telecommunications carrier be changed and seeks to provide retail services to that subscriber. A carrier may be treated as a submitting carrier, however, if it is responsible for any unreasonable delays in the submission of carrier change requests, or for the submission of unauthorized carrier change requests, including fraudulent authorizations.

Executing Carrier

Any telecommunications carrier that effects a request that a subscriber's telecommunications carrier be changed. A carrier may be treated as an executing carrier, however, if it is responsible for any unreasonable delays in the execution of carrier changes, or for the execution of unauthorized carrier changes, including fraudulent authorizations.

Authorized Carrier

Any telecommunications carrier that submits a change on behalf of a subscriber in the subscriber's selection of a provider of telecommunications service with the subscriber's authorization verified in accordance with state and/or federal law.

Unauthorized Carrier

Any telecommunications carrier that has submitted, or is alleged to have submitted, a change on behalf of the subscriber in the subscriber's selection of a provider of telecommunications service but has failed, or is alleged to have failed, to obtain the subscriber's authorization verified in accordance with state and/or federal law.

Unauthorized Change

Any change in a subscriber's selection of a provider of telecommunications service that was made without authorization or without verification in accordance with the verification procedures described in state and/or federal law.

State Commission

As used in the FCC's slamming rules, shall include the California Public Utilities Commission, which, in accordance with the requirements of the FCC's slamming rules, 47 CFR 64.1110(a), has the authority to resolve the complaints of California residents arising out of an allegation that an unauthorized change of a telecommunications service provider has occurred.

Consumer Affairs Branch (CAB)

The Commission's office where California consumers may complain about utility or enhanced service provider (ESP) service or billing, or about any other charges on a utility or ESP bill that they have not been able to resolve directly with the company.

Billing Telephone Company

Any telephone corporation providing landline or wireless telephone service in California that also provides billing services to any third party, including its own affiliates, or that bills for non-communications-related goods and services on its own behalf.

Billing Agent

A company or business entity that aggregates billing for telephone service providers and/or vendors and submits that billing to a telephone company for inclusion on subscribers' telephone bills, either directly or indirectly through one or more billing aggregators.

[Comment: Sections 2889.9 and 2890 use the term "billing agent." Billing agents are sometimes referred to as "billing aggregators." The FCC uses the term "clearinghouse" (see FCC Anti-Cramming Best Practices Guidelines).]

Subscriber

Any individual or business that subscribes to any telecommunications service subject to Commission jurisdiction. Only the person or person(s) whose name(s) are on the account are subscribers for purposes of these Part 4 rules.

Written; In Writing:

Both "written" and "in-writing" describe materials intended to be read, either in hardcopy document form (including fax) or transmitted through electronic media. For purposes of these rules, however, whenever anything is required to be done "in writing," the requirement must be satisfied in the form of a tangible, hardcopy document unless both parties to the communication have agreed to having the required information (which may be, e.g., a disclosure, a notice, a confirmation, etc.) provided through electronic media.

[Comment: This definition of “written” and “in writing” will be interpreted consistent with the provisions of the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act, Cal. Civil Code §§ 1633 et seq., and with the Electronic Signatures Act, 15 USCA §§ 7001 et. seq., subject to the limitation that an oral communication or a recording of an oral communications shall not constitute an electronic signature.]

30-day Waiting Period

The 30 calendar days immediately following the date on which the unauthorized carrier sends the notification of intent to re-bill the subscriber, or the date on which the charges are credited/refunded, whichever is later. If the 30th day falls on an official state holiday or on a weekend, the next working day shall be treated as the 30th day.

30-day Absolution Period

The 30 calendar days immediately following the date on which an alleged unauthorized change of carrier occurred.

C. Authorization and Verification of Orders for Telecommunications Services

Authorization and verification of orders for telecommunications services shall be done in accordance with applicable state and federal laws.

D. Unauthorized Local Exchange Carrier Changes

A local exchange carrier or competitive local exchange carrier will be held liable for both the unauthorized termination of local exchange service with an existing carrier and the subsequent unauthorized transfer to its own local exchange service. Carriers are responsible for the actions of their agents who solicit unauthorized service terminations and transfers. A carrier which engages in such unauthorized activity shall restore the subscriber's service to the original carrier without charge to the subscriber. All billings during the unauthorized service period shall be refunded to the applicant or subscriber. Violations of this rule may be sanctioned by a fine pursuant to Public Utilities Code Section 2107. As prescribed under Section 2108, each day of a continuing violation shall constitute a separate and distinct offense. The carrier responsible for the unauthorized transfer shall reimburse the original carrier for reestablishing service at the tariffed rate of the original carrier.

E. Procedures for Unauthorized Carriers for the Resolution of an Alleged Unauthorized Change of Carrier

(1) Upon notification from the subscriber, the Commission staff, the executing carrier, or the authorized carrier of an alleged unauthorized change of carrier, and the subscriber has not paid the charges, the unauthorized carrier shall, within three days of such notification, credit the subscriber's account for all unpaid charges incurred during the 30-day absolution period. If notification of the alleged unauthorized change was received from the subscriber, the Commission staff, or the authorized carrier and the unauthorized carrier is billing the subscriber directly or indirectly through a billing telephone company, the unauthorized carrier shall process the subscriber's credit to the billing telephone company within three days of such notification. The Commission staff may grant an expansion or waiver of the 30-day absolution period where special circumstances warrant a longer period of absolution.

(2) Upon notification from the subscriber, the Commission staff, the authorized carrier or the executing carrier of an alleged unauthorized change in carrier, and the subscriber has paid the charges, the unauthorized carrier shall, within three days of such notification, refund or credit to the subscriber's account 50% of all charges paid by the subscriber, including taxes, surcharges, monthly fees, and any other fees. At the subscriber's option, the unauthorized carrier shall instead determine the refund or credit by re-rating the subscriber's bill based on what the authorized carrier would have charged the subscriber for the same services had an unauthorized change not occurred. When the notification comes from the subscriber, the Commission staff or the authorized carrier, the unauthorized carrier, if billing the subscriber directly or indirectly through a billing telephone company, shall process the subscriber's refund or credit to the billing telephone company within three days. The billing telephone company shall process a refund or credit to the subscriber within three days after receiving such a request.

(3) Upon notification from the subscriber of an alleged unauthorized change of carrier, the unauthorized carrier shall notify the subscriber where to file a complaint by providing the subscriber the Commission's address, as outlined in Section H of these rules. This notification shall not begin the 30-day waiting period that the subscriber has to file an informal complaint at the Commission.

(4) The unauthorized carrier shall immediately notify the executing carrier of the alleged unauthorized change.

(5) The unauthorized carrier shall provide the authorized carrier the subscriber's billing records for charges incurred by the subscriber beyond the 30-day absolution period and a statement of any refunded amount.

(6) Upon demand from the authorized carrier, the unauthorized carrier shall pay the authorized carrier for reasonable billing and collection expenses incurred by the authorized carrier in collecting charges from the unauthorized carrier.

(7) Upon demand from the executing carrier, the unauthorized carrier shall pay the executing carrier for the charges required to return the subscriber to his or her authorized carrier pursuant to the terms of the executing carrier's tariff.

(8) If the unauthorized carrier challenges the subscriber's allegation of an unauthorized change of carriers, whether or not the subscriber has paid the charges, the following provisions shall apply:

(a) The unauthorized carrier shall notify the subscriber in writing, in a separate date-stamped envelope that is not part of any bill, that the unauthorized carrier challenges the subscriber's allegation of an unauthorized change in carrier, and that the unauthorized carrier intends to re-bill the subscriber for the charges. The written notification of intent to re-bill shall inform the subscriber that failure to file an informal complaint with the Commission within the 30-day waiting period, as defined in these rules, may result in the unauthorized carrier re-billing the charges in question.

(b) In the notification of intent to re-bill, the unauthorized carrier must specify to the subscriber the clear and convincing evidence that supports its position that the carrier change is valid. If the authorization and verification of the subscriber's requested carrier change are written documents, a legible copy of these written documents shall be sent to the subscriber as part of this notification. If the authorization and verification are oral, an audible copy of the oral communication shall be sent to the subscriber as part of this notification. If the authorization and verification are a combination of written and oral evidence, the written documents and the audible copy of the oral communication shall both be sent to the subscriber as part of this notification.

(c) The notification shall include a copy of Section H of these rules. The unauthorized carrier shall also send a copy of the notification of intent to re-bill the subscriber to the Commission at the address in Section H of these rules.

(d) The unauthorized carrier may not re-bill the subscriber until the end of a 30-day waiting period during which the subscriber may file an informal complaint with the Commission. If the subscriber does file an informal complaint before the end of the 30-day waiting period, the unauthorized carrier may not re-bill the subscriber unless and until the CAB staff makes a determination that the subscriber authorized the carrier change.

(e) The unauthorized carrier may re-bill the subscriber if the subscriber has failed to file an informal complaint within the 30-day waiting period and the unauthorized carrier has confirmed that fact with the CAB staff.

(9) If the CAB staff determines that an unauthorized change has occurred, the unauthorized carrier shall be liable to the subscriber's authorized carrier for 100% of all charges the subscriber paid the unauthorized carrier. The unauthorized carrier shall forward the subscriber's billing information for such services to the authorized carrier immediately after the CAB staff issues its determination.

(10) If the CAB staff determines that the subscriber authorized the carrier change, the submitting carrier may re-bill the subscriber for charges incurred.

(11) The alleged unauthorized carrier shall not pursue collections against the subscriber until the subscriber has been re-billed.

(12) The failure of a subscriber to file an informal complaint in the 30-day waiting period will not preclude the subscriber from subsequently filing an informal complaint with CAB. The subscriber also has the option of filing a formal complaint under the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure.

(13) An unauthorized carrier that does not comply with these rules may be subject to enforcement action and/or the imposition of such additional remedies and penalties as are authorized under state and federal law.

F. Procedures for Executing Carriers for the Resolution of an Alleged Unauthorized Change of Carrier

(1) Upon notification from the subscriber alleging an unauthorized change of carrier, and the subscriber has not paid charges to the unauthorized carrier, the executing carrier shall inform the subscriber of the 30-day absolution period. The executing carrier, if billing directly or indirectly for the alleged unauthorized carrier, shall credit the subscriber within three days of notification for charges incurred during the 30-day absolution period. If the executing carrier is not billing directly or indirectly for the alleged unauthorized carrier, the executing carrier shall refer the subscriber to the unauthorized carrier.

(2) Upon notification from the subscriber or the authorized carrier of an alleged unauthorized change of carrier, and the subscriber has paid the bill, the executing carrier, if billing directly or indirectly for the alleged unauthorized carrier, shall provide the subscriber with a refund/credit of 50% of what he/she paid the unauthorized carrier, including taxes and surcharges, monthly fees, and any other fees, within three days after notification. At the subscriber's option, the amount of the refund/credit shall be determined by re-rating the services provided by the unauthorized carrier based on what the authorized carrier would have charged the subscriber for the same services had an unauthorized change not occurred.

(3) Upon notification from the subscriber of an alleged unauthorized change in carrier, the executing carrier shall advise the subscriber that the alleged unauthorized carrier may challenge the subscriber's allegation. The executing carrier shall inform the subscriber that the alleged unauthorized carrier must notify the subscriber in writing if it plans to re-bill the subscriber and must inform the subscriber that he or she has a 30-day waiting period, as defined in these rules, to file an informal complaint with the Commission's CAB staff against the unauthorized carrier. The executing carrier shall explain to the subscriber where to file an informal complaint by providing the Commission's address as outlined in Section H of these rules. This notification shall not begin the 30-day waiting period that the subscriber has to file an informal complaint at the Commission.

(4) The executing carrier shall return the subscriber to the authorized carrier and shall advise the subscriber that he/she must contact the authorized carrier to be returned to the subscriber's previous calling and premium plans.

(5) The executing carrier shall not bill the subscriber to return the subscriber to his/her authorized carrier and shall refund/credit all switching charges if it billed the subscriber for the unauthorized change. The executing carrier may bill the unauthorized carrier for the charges required to return the subscriber to his/her authorized carrier pursuant to the terms of the executing carrier's tariff.

(6) The executing carrier shall promptly notify the unauthorized carrier and the authorized carrier that the subscriber has alleged an unauthorized change. This notification shall identify the authorized and the unauthorized carriers and shall include any information the executing carrier has regarding the transaction.

(7) The executing carrier shall not use any subscriber contact resulting from an alleged unauthorized change for purposes of promoting or selling its own products or services.

(8) The executing carrier shall not pursue collections against the subscriber until the subscriber has been re-billed.

G. Procedures for Authorized Carriers for the Resolution of an Alleged Unauthorized Change of Carrier

(1) If the subscriber contacts the authorized carrier about the alleged unauthorized change and the subscriber has not paid charges to the alleged unauthorized carrier, the authorized carrier shall inform the subscriber of the 30-day absolution period and shall refer the subscriber to the alleged unauthorized carrier or its billing agent for a credit for charges incurred during the 30-day absolution period.

(2) If the subscriber contacts the authorized carrier about the alleged unauthorized change and the subscriber has paid charges to the alleged unauthorized carrier, the authorized carrier shall inform the subscriber of the availability of a refund/credit of 50% of what the subscriber paid the unauthorized carrier, including taxes and surcharges, monthly fees, and any other fees. The authorized carrier shall also inform the subscriber that the subscriber has the option of having the refund/credit determined by re-rating the services provided by the alleged unauthorized carrier based on what the authorized carrier would have charged the subscriber for the same services had an alleged unauthorized change not occurred. The authorized carrier shall refer the subscriber to the alleged unauthorized carrier to obtain the refund/credit or re-rate.

(3) If the subscriber contacts the authorized carrier about an alleged unauthorized change, the authorized carrier shall inform the subscriber that the alleged unauthorized carrier must notify the subscriber in writing if it challenges the allegation and intends to re-bill the subscriber and must inform the subscriber that he/she has 30 days, as defined in these rules, to file an informal complaint with the CAB staff against the unauthorized carrier. The authorized carrier shall explain to the subscriber where to file an informal complaint by providing the Commission's address as outlined in Section H of these rules. This notification shall not begin the 30-day period that the subscriber has to file an informal complaint at the Commission.

(4) The authorized carrier shall promptly notify the executing and alleged unauthorized carrier of the alleged unauthorized change.

(5) Upon notification from the subscriber, the executing carrier, or the alleged unauthorized carrier that an alleged unauthorized change has occurred, the authorized carrier shall reinstate the subscriber to the calling plan and the premium plans the subscriber was on immediately prior to the alleged unauthorized change.

(6) The authorized carrier may bill the subscriber for unpaid charges that the subscriber is liable for under these rules, at the authorized carrier's rates in effect for the subscriber before the unauthorized change occurred.

(7) The authorized carrier may bill the unauthorized carrier for reasonable billing and collection expenses incurred by the authorized carrier in collecting charges from the unauthorized carrier.

H. Informal Complaints

The following procedures shall apply to informal complaints to the Commission alleging an unauthorized change of a subscriber's preferred carrier, as defined by Public Utilities Code § 2889.5 or the FCC's slamming rules.

carrier without authorization; (5) a copy of the subscriber's bill which contains the unauthorized changes; (6) a statement of whether the complainant has paid any disputed charges to the alleged unauthorized carrier; and (7) a statement of the specific relief sought.

(c) The CAB staff will require the alleged unauthorized carrier to produce evidence of authorization and verification, and any other information or documentation the CAB staff may need to resolve the subscriber's complaint. The alleged unauthorized carrier shall provide evidence of subscriber authorization and verification within ten business days of CAB's request. If evidence of authorization and verification is not provided within ten business days, a presumption exists that an unauthorized change occurred, and CAB staff will find that an unauthorized change did occur.

(d) Upon request by the CAB staff for information other than the subscriber authorization and verification, the alleged unauthorized carrier shall provide such information within ten business days of CAB's request or provide a written explanation as to why the information cannot be provided within the required ten business days and an estimate of when it will provide the information.

(e) The CAB staff will conduct an investigation to determine whether an unauthorized change has occurred. The investigation may include review of the alleged subscriber authorization, verification, solicitation methods and materials, and any other information CAB staff determines is relevant to the investigation.

(f) Upon concluding its investigation, the CAB staff will inform the subscriber, the executing carrier, the alleged unauthorized carrier, and the authorized carrier of its decision.

(4) Appeals:

(a) If the subscriber is not satisfied with the CAB staff decision, the subscriber may appeal the decision to a Consumer Affairs Manager within 45 calendar days. The subscriber shall present new information or explain any factual or legal errors made in the CAB staff decision.

(b) If the subscriber is not satisfied with the resolution of the complaint by the Consumer Affairs Manager, the subscriber may file a formal complaint with the Commission according to the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, Article 3.

(c) If the CAB staff finds that an unauthorized change has occurred but the unauthorized carrier disagrees and pursues billing or collection against the subscriber, CAB staff will forward this information to Commission's enforcement staff and advise the subscriber to file a formal complaint.
